Imported steel quotas rejected

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

President Ronald Reagan Tuesday rejected the International Trade Commission's recommendation to limit some steel imports to America.

Prior to the president's action, Lynn Williams, international president of the United Steelworkers of America, warned in a closed-circuit satellite broadcast to reporters in 13 cities across the United States Tuesday afternoon that failure to act to limit steel imports soon could doom the domestic steel industry.

"IF WE DON'T do something effective quickly, we will simply see the industry, as we have known it, whither away," Williams warned. He said this has happened in some European countries and the result has been nationalization of the steel industries in those countries, "creating the current system we have of heavily subsidized steel being dumped in the U.S. market," Williams said.

The steel import quotas were seen as a political "hot potato" for the president, who said he would seek negotiations with major steel importers for voluntary agreements limiting the amount of steel sold here. Rejection of the ITC recommendation to limit imports to about 20 percent of total U.S. consumption puts the president in direct opposition to Democratic presidential candidate Walter Mondale, who favors trade restrictions to aid the ailing steel industry by cutting imports in half.

Foreign steel accounted for nearly 25 percent of the steel used in the United States last year, up about two percent from the previous year. The ITC proposal would have reduced the level to about 20 percent while the Fair Trade in Steel Act, now pen-

'Happy' ending to potentially tragic fire

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

There aren't many instances when the victims of a house fire have reason to be thankful, but that was the case Tuesday afternoon in Granite City.

At 1 p.m., Richard and Pam Webb and their two children, Inge and Richard Jr., were moving into their new residence at 2132 Grand Ave. Most of their belongings were still packed away, sitting in the room, near the rear of the house.

WHILE MRS. Webb began unpacking, Richard Sr. was preparing the lawnmower to cut the grass. Dave Steward, 34, also a resident, was asleep downstairs in renovated basement.

The owner of the building, Lamorne Kinder, also was doing his part to ready the home for the Webbs' occupancy. Kinder, who had plans of remodeling the two-story dwelling, ignited a "roach bomb," a sulfur-containing pest fumigator, in the front room of the house.

ACCORDING to the Granite City Fire Chief Don Parente's report of the incident, the fumigative device was placed on a fan, which he speculates may have been used to circulate air, thus increasing the effectiveness of the fumigation process.

Parente speculates that the device vibrated off the fan and fell near a chifferobe, where it caught the floor and chifferobe on fire. Flames then spread to the front portion of the home.

The fire grew unnoticed while Richard Sr. continued his duties in the lawn. Mrs. Webb tended to her unpacking and Steward slept in the basement.

MINUTES LATER, when Mrs. Webb noticed smoke billowing from the front of the home, she summoned her husband, who attempted to extinguish the flames.

By then, the flames had grown past the point where he alone could extinguish them. At that point, at 1:01 p.m., the fire department was summoned to the home.

While the fire department was enroute, Mrs. Webb evacuated her two young children from the residence and, once they were out of danger, began removing what personal belongings she could.

THEN IT hit her. Steward was still asleep in the basement.

"I ran to the basement window well and shouted for him to get out," Mrs. Webb said pointing to the basement window. "I woke him and he climbed out the same window."

The Webbs managed to save most of their belongings, but Steward's things could not be saved. Only a bicycle that was parked on the front porch of the home survived the blaze. And even it was not unscathed — its seat burned and handle bar grips melted from heat.

"I STILL feel pretty fortunate," Steward said. "I don't know what I may still have down there, but I'm alive. This little lady saved my life," Steward said motioning to Mrs. Webb.

The nine responding firemen also escaped the fire without injury. There was a lot to be thankful for. Damage estimates totaled $9,500 — $7,000 to the home and $2,500 to personal belongings contained in the home.

Goal—to keep schools local

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

The future of School District Nine and the Granite City community depend on "Yes" votes on the two school proposals at the Nov. 6 election, the audience at a monthly prayer breakfast was told Wednesday.

Many of those present said that rejection would be so destructive, so devastating, that some way must be found to persuade voters to approve the two tax items.

NUMEROUS TALKS at meetings and gatherings are among the information activities planned during the next six weeks.

Hopes are being voiced for a massive campaign effort by parents, students, businesses, non-student families, organizations, churches, senior citizens, the Board of Education, administrators, teachers, other school employees and the general public.

Citizens are taking the lead in developing campaign plans, it was pointed out, and the district is promising to extend full cooperation to the volunteers.

SINCE $6.6 MILLION is all that can be submitted as a working cash fund bond issue and the district is $7.6 million short ($7.1 million in June 1984 and a $500,000 imbalance in 1984-85), $1 million is needed from a 40-cent education rate change, Board Member Dewey Melton said.

Because a large number of scheduled early retirements by school personnel in June 1986 will cost about $1 million in state-required contributions by District Nine, that will consume the second

Assessment protest date is extended

The deadline for Quad-City area property owners to protest their assessments has been pushed up from last Tuesday, Sept. 18, to Wednesday, Sept. 26, the office of James Barton, county superintendent of assessments, announced yesterday.

A supervisor in Barton's office said the date, originally announced by Granite City Township Assessor Van Der Cruse for Sept. 18, has been changed due to late publication of a legal notice by one newspaper.

The legal notice giving homeowners 30 days in which to protest their assessments was first published in the Press-Record Aug. 23, so the deadline was set for Monday, Sept. 24, due to the weekend. However, an identical notice was published in the Granite City Journal on Aug. 26, also giving property owners notice that they had 30 days to protest.

WHEN BARTON realized that the Journal notice was run Aug. 26, he changed the deadline date to Wednesday, Sept. 26. The Board of Review will accept assessment protests postmarked up until 11:59 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 26.

In a related matter, Madison County Treasurer Mick Henkhaus noted Tuesday that there had been an error in Monday's newspaper which said that persons wishing to pay their taxes under protest may do so up until the deadline for paying those tax bills, but will have to pay a $25 fee. Henkhaus said the fee for paying taxes under protest is $10.

INCREASING CAPACITY. St. Clair Avenue at Nameoki Road is blocked off Tuesday as workers install larger-capacity pumps in a lift station on the northeast corner of the intersection. The building of the new National Food Market, visible in

Granite Cityan takes 2nd in car show

Granite Cityan Donald Robinson took second place honors in the Model A Ford (open 1928 through 1929) competition at the 23rd Annual Antique Auto and Sports Car Meet. The event was in Springfield, Ill.

"The 320 entries in this year's meet were high-quality vehicles that provided not only good competition for the antique auto and sports car enthusiasts, but a good show for everyone," said Secretary of State Jim Edgar, who was coordinator for the event.

The Marquis Award for this year was given to a 1907 Cadillac, owned by Marcella Knight of Peoria. The award, which honors a different automobile manufacturer each year, heads the list of awards presented to five division winners and the first, second and third place winners in each of the 46 classes.

"Best of Show" division trophies were awarded to Joe Tex of Pana, Ill., for a 1908 Sears; Paul Bloechle of Springfield, Ill., for a 1928 Ford; Everett Brann of Peoria for a 1940 Lincoln; Jim Watters of Wood River for a 1966 Mustang; and Ralph and Lucille Riley of East Peoria, for a 1965 Porsche.

Gate receipts from the meet, which included a flea market and swap meet, will go to the Illinois affiliate of the American Heart Association.

Brewer assumes command of new Reserve unit

Commander Monroe F. Brewer Jr. assumed command of the newly-designated Reserve Naval Construction Force Support Unit 4 (RNCFSU 4) during ceremonies early this week at the Granite City Army Installation.

Brewer was the city engineer of Granite City for 10 years prior to accepting a position with Washington University in St. Louis. He recently was promoted to manager of maintenance, grounds and utilities at Washington University.

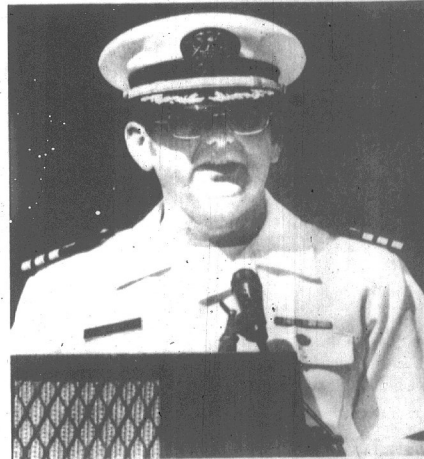

Brewer accepted the command of RNCFSU 4 from Commander John D. Booth during the ceremony. The unit also was redesignated from the U.S. Naval Reserve Construction Battalion Maintenance Unit 302 (CBMU 302) during the ceremony. Booth leaves the unit after having served four years with CBMU 302, first as executive officer from 1980 to 1982, followed by two years in command. Brewer has completed 18 months as commander of Reserve Naval Construction Battalion Hospital Unit 13A (CBHU 13A) in Glenview, Ill. He served as administrative officer of the Sixth Regiment at Glenview prior to taking command of CBHU 13A. He formerly served as commander of CBMU 302 from February 1980 through October 1981.

Commander Brewer, a resident of Florissant, Mo., is a recipient of the National Defense Medal.

A special guest and speaker at the ceremonies Sunday was Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, who discussed the importance of the St. Louis Area Support Center at Granite City (the Army Installation) to the city and surrounding areas. Mayor Schuler has been a strong supporter of the Seabee program and its home in Granite City.

Also in attendance at the ceremony was Capt. Robert A. Barclay, commander of the Sixth Naval Reserve Construction Regiment in Glenview. He is to become the inspector general of the 1st Naval Reserve Construction Brigade in El Toro, Calif., Sept. 29. Commander Brewer and his wife, Barbara Jean, have three children, Christopher, Elizabeth and Robert.

Sweets attract yellowjacket bees

By RON CORNWELL

We have received a number of calls over the past three weeks concerning a bee that is attracted to fruit in Madison County. This bee is the Eastern Yellowjacket.

The Eastern Yellowjacket is a social wasp that is about a half-inch in length. It is brightly colored with conspicuous yellow and black markings. The markings are anchor and triangular shaped.

They nest in the soil. They are usually present in large numbers and will normally be active until cold weather occurs in November.

Reports have been received this fall of the yellowjackets feeding on grapes, raspberries, apples and pears. The insect is attracted especially to over-ripe fruit where there is a sweet juice-like substance to feed on. They are even attracted to hummingbird feeders where sugar water is available.

The bees found around fruit are usually the worker bees. They don't seem to be as aggressive as the queen bees located at the nest.

If a person walks into the nesting site of the Eastern Yellowjacket, the guard bees are very aggressive. A person disturbing the nest has a high risk of being stung.

To control the Eastern Yellowjacket, it is necessary to treat the nesting site with an insecticide. The recommended control is to trench the nesting site with Diazinon or treat the nesting site with Sevin dust.

ALORTON POLICE FIND

AUTO STOLEN from a GC recovered a 1975 Camaro belonging to Cathy Naglich, 3144 Aubrey Ave., which was reported stolen late last week from the Western Auto Store lot, 2001 Grand Ave.

The vehicle's ignition had been punched, the radio was missing and the original tires had been switched, reports said.

Goal—to keep schools

year's 40-cent yield, Melton explained. He and other school officials said no money from either ballot proposal will go to employee raises.

Others speaking were Supt. Frank L. Kraus, Finance Director Norman Owca, Board Pres. David Partney and School Treas. Kelly Hogan. Moderator was the Rev. James Donahue, pastor of Third Baptist Church.

BILL H. TERRELL said it is important to the success of the campaign that board members halt political maneuvering, and Supt. Kraus replied that the board is fully united in the bond issue and education rate campaign.

Kraus said a misconception is that East St. Louis schools encountered similar financial trouble and, as a result, were saved by the state government. State intervention was related to ouster and replacement of several board members there, he related.

Chicago and East St. Louis are among the districts receiving unusually large state aid because of the number of their poverty-stricken neighborhoods, Granite City would not receive an infusion of funds from a state takeover, Kraus stressed.

UTILIZATION of $8.6 million ($6.6 million ten-year bonds and $2,000,000 from the added education rate in each of 1985 and 1986) would create a break-even outlook—zero short-term debt—as of June 30, 1986, it was noted.

"A possible exception to break-even status was mentioned—cash flow, which might prompt some borrowing during waits for real estate taxes.

Pres. Partney said some future rise in labor material and utility costs is inevitable, and pointed out that basic school rates have not risen in 15 years.

"JUST THIS YEAR, compared to last year we have lost $860,000 in state aid and $160,000 due to lower assessed valuation. We have borrowed $5 million in tax anticipation notes, and we will not be borrowing another $2.6 million, but no financial institutions have made a commitment to loan it to us," Partney told the breakfast group.

"We do have a very serious problem," he asserted.

Supt. Kraus said in answer to a question that enrollment is decreasing about two percent a year, reducing eligibility for state funding. The district has budgeted to recall three or four teachers this month, based on sixth-day enrollment tallies, he added.

A RESURGENCE of business and industrial activity could stimulate population growth and economic well being, but the enrollment downturn is not yet showing signs of a reversal, the superintendent reported. He recalled that a dozen years ago the number of pupils was nearing 16,000 but the second-day count this fall was 8,650.

SOUTHWESTERN Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission projections that helped prompt expansion of school facilities indicated that the enrollment should have topped 20,000 by now, it was related.

Class size in regular rooms is about 30 to 35 students, requiring teachers to work much harder than when the range was 20 to 25, Kraus said.

"Rather than a five-year plan, we have had to concentrate at present on a one-year plan—avoiding disaster.

"WE NO LONGER can afford the concept of a school in each neighborhood. We have closed many schools, but cannot shut down any more buildings and still house the children.

"The closings upset parents but the pupils have continued to receive the same educational programs. We can still make some spending cuts, but if we reduce by much we will be eliminating programs, which would directly affect the students," Kraus said.

"We will apply all of the money from the ballot proposals to retirement of debt. Teachers have acknowledged that this is necessary."

Owca said, "From 1972 to 1981 we regularly spent $500,000 less than other unit districts of comparable size in Illinois.

"WE CONTINUE to operate economically. Our yearly expenditure of $2,700 per pupil is well below the $2,900 average in the state.

"In 1982-83 the district laid off many people and this caused an increase in such costs as unemployment compensation.

"The St. Louis Business Journal last year analyzed the 25 largest school districts in this metropolitan area and found that Granite City was only spending 63.4 cents compared to the average tax dollar being spent on schools. We are lean."

A MEMBER of the audience questioned whether "lean" is the appropriate word, in view of the deterioration of some of the aging school buildings. Owca said the district has been limited for a number of years to a tax rate of 37.5 cents for the building fund and has had to build with only the highest-priority building needs.

Granite City schools meet state safety requirements, Owca reported, adding that the state does not underwrite elementary and secondary schools' building renovations, although providing 75 percent from the Capital Development Board for colleges' refurbishing.

Hogan said some buffer is needed in school funding to cope with the gradual escalation of operating costs.

HE PRAISED OWCA for accuracy in projecting future school costs, saying the typical estimate has proven to be within $25,000 in a $25 million yearly budget.

Partney said the schools will provide speakers for groups seeking information on school needs, and called for intense concentration on public awareness during October.

He described the revenue authorization as vital in order to protect local property values.

In making Wednesday's basic presentation, Melton used charts which he had prepared during final stages of the board's formulation of its full financial plans. He said—

"SCHOOL INCOME is derived from the local community, 51 percent; state, 43 percent; and federal government, five percent.

Of the local school funding, 40 percent is from home owners, 26 percent from businesses, another 19 percent from businesses' personal property replacement taxes and 15 percent from mobile home taxes, cafeteria receipts and various fees.

Combining the 26 and 19 percent portions, businesses pay 45 percent of the local share of school costs."

"WHILE HOME OWNERS provide only 21 percent of the total spent by District Nine each year, they are crucial to the Nov. 8 balloting because they cast nearly all of the votes.

The two proposals involve approximately equal impact—40 cents for the education rate and 40 cents for cash fund bonds.

The average Granite City home is assessed at $15,000 to $16,000, reflecting overall value of $45,000 to $48,000.

With the $2,000 assessment exemption under Illinois Senate Bill 1780, the remaining $12,500 applied to an 80-cent rate hike would increase a typical family's real estate tax for schools by $100, from the present $437 school tax to $537.

"TAKING INTO ACCOUNT the federal income tax rate, ranging from zero to 25, 30, 40 or 50 percent brackets, a $100 school tax rise would amount to a net cost to the family of $100, $75, $50, $25 or $0.

In the examples of net yearly cost—$100, $75, $50, $25 or $0—the monthly amount would be $8.33, $6.25, $5.80, $5 or $4.17.

On a weekly basis, the cost would be $1.92, $1.44, $1.33, $1.15 or 96 cents.

Although most families' discretionary income is somewhat limited, the expenditure involved in the school proposals is equivalent to small purchases of such things as cigarettes, beer or soda.

"BASED ON a $337 annual school tax payment, $437 now plus $100 added, the amount is dwarfed by the $2,700 spent by the district for each of 8,700 full-time students (3,400 in the first through 12th grades and 600 in half-day kindergarten).

A survey of non-public school tuition being paid at six locations in this region showed yearly amounts of $1,400, $1,680, $1,875, $2,000, $2,040 and $5,400.

At $2,700 a year, about $34,000 is being spent during a student's total years in school here. With an annual school tax payment of $537, it would take 63 years of taxpaying to equal that $34,000.

"THE $7.6 MILLION debt is forcing taxpayers to pay $900,000 annually for interest.

"Despite the difficulty of squeezing more savings out of the already tight budget, the first move by state officials—if they intervene—would be to order major cuts. These cuts might affect learning centers, elementary physical education, music at all levels, athletics, instruction of the gifted and other programs.

No extra state money would be provided.

The district could be placed on probation for one year, after which the Madison County Regional Board of School Trustees could be told to assign sections of the district—and the school buildings—to other districts.

"THIS HAS NEVER happened in Illinois, and I pray that it never happens," Melton said.

"But there is no extra money for us from the state. The key will be for us to vote 'yes' on the two ballot questions Nov. 6.

"The question facing us is, 'What about Granite City?'

"Are we a community? Is there a 'sense of community' among us? Is there a sense of civility among us, of confidence in the future? Or are we something else?"

All of us, and our neighbors, can answer the question."

Zoning hearings conducted Friday

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct two on-site public zoning hearings tomorrow.

The first hearing will begin at 9:45 a.m. Friday in Chouteau Township. Richard Wilkinson is requesting a special use permit to continue the placement of a single wide mobile home on his property. The land is located on Chouteau Island and can be reached by driving west on Old Route 66 across the canal bridge, turn left on the first paved road and following it until it turns left through the slough, then continuing straight to property.

The second petition will be heard at 9:50 a.m. and is also from Richard Wilkinson for the same property. He is requesting a variation of the Madison County Zoning Ordinance in order to continue the placement of the mobile home in a flood hazard area.

Lawyers sue disciplinary panel

Federal lawsuits have been filed in Chicago on behalf of four Madison County lawyers who contend the Illinois Attorney Registration and Disciplinary Commission has violated their freedom of speech by filing misconduct charges against them.

Attorneys Morris B. Campan, Jon G. Carlson and William W. Schooley Jr. of Granite City and L.

Thomas Lakin of East Alton have filed the suits in U.S. District Court at Chicago and ask the court to enjoin the commission from proceeding with disciplinary action against them.

Telephone calls to the Granite City attorneys involved were unsuccessful in reaching them. The four attorneys, plus lawyers Leon Scroggins and William S. Beatty, both of Granite City, have been charged by the commission with misconduct for allegedly using false and misleading information during a 1980 campaign to defeat two circuit judges seeking retention, Victor J. Moselle and John DeLaurenti.

Scroggins and Beatty are not parties in the federal lawsuits, according to sources.

The Illinois Attorney Registration and Disciplinary Commission hears evidence and testimony and then makes recommendations to the Supreme Court for disciplinary action ranging from a reprimand to disbarment.

Voter registration is underway

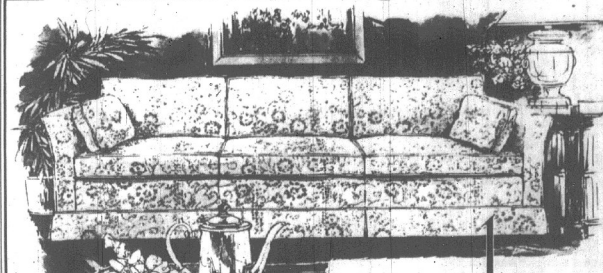

Voter registration is underway at several Granite City locations and will continue until Oct. 9.

Voters may register through Oct. 2 at the United Steelworkers office, 1400 Twentieth St., or K-Mart in Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

Registration also will be conducted weekdays through Oct. 9 at the Granite City Clerk's office in city hall and at the county clerk's office in the county courthouse at Edwardsville.

Exclude Venice from area's proposed Enterprise Zone

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

The exclusion of the City of Venice from an Enterprise Zone project, proposed for the Quad-City area, was viewed with concern by the Venice City Council at Tuesday night's meeting.

Third Ward Alderman John Ervin questioned the project being promoted by the Madison County Community Development agency, and asked, "Why is Venice left out?" Mayor Tyrone Echols commented, "From what I understand, they (community development officials) said that Venice opted out, but I didn't opt out and I haven't approached them yet about the matter."

A meeting is scheduled at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 27, at the Granite City Township Hall, 2080 Delmar Ave., for officials and representatives from the cities of Madison and Granite City and Madison County, to further explore the feasibility of the Enterprise Zone proposal, the Venice mayor said.

The city of Venice was among 19 Illinois communities which applied for Enterprise Zone status in December 1982 under the state's then-new economic development legislation, proposed by Governor James R. Thompson's Enterprise Zone Task Force.

Venice was not selected among the initial applicants, although its request was viewed favorably by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, which suggested the community submit a second request in the following year.

Once again, however, the local community was not successful in its bid for Enterprise Zone sanction.

"We were among the first ones to apply and now that the Enterprise Zone concept appears to be working, they are excluding us," Alderman Ervin commented.

"I think it is a disgrace. I saw a map and Venice was excluded. It cuts us out completely, but goes down to Newport and goes out to Horseshoe Lake. If (the map) also goes up to the Port Authority, but left us out totally," the official said.

"I think it's a first class germinder," Venice Treasurer J. Alard Gardner commented. Mayor Echols repeated his statement that "a man from the county said we opted out of the plan." But I've got some wheels in motion," he assured the council members.

The Enterprise Zone concept was devised to stimulate business development and job creation in depressed areas of Illinois by inducing private economic development through provisions of tax incentives and relaxation of government controls.

Under the provisions of Senate Bill 1209, which Governor Thompson signed into law July 9, 1982, up to eight enterprise zones were to be selected every year for up to six years. Once designated, a zone may run for a term of up to 20 years.

Designated areas are allowed to use various incentives to attract business and industry. Among the incentives are:

- Permitting the localities to modify zoning, licensing and building codes.
- Providing a state investment tax credit of 5 percent of new investments.
- Providing for a state and local sales tax exemption or refund on building materials used to expand or remodel property located in a zone.

- Earmarking $100 million in revenue bonds issued by Illinois Industrial Development Authority for use in enterprise zones.
- Allowing local governments to abate property taxes on improvements made to property located in a zone.

Permitting exemptions from some state agency rules and regulations for business located in a zone. Those involved in the new Quad-City area proposal are planning to create an administrative organization to serve as a primary clearing house for development activities within the zone, it was reported.

The city of Venice has been identified by the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development as an economically-distressed community, a fact that prompted attempts to gain Enterprise Zone status earlier.

In other business, the Venice aldermen approved expenses for Police Sergeants Joseph Meehan and Bruce Fletcher to attend the Illinois Police Association's annual convention, scheduled this weekend in Springfield, and for Police Sgt. John Crook and Officer Daniel McKinney to take part in the Illinois Policemen's Benevolent and Protective Association meeting, Oct. 5 through Oct. 7, also in Springfield.

Expenses also were approved for city officials to attend the 71st annual convention of the Illinois Municipal League, set Sept. 28 through Oct. 1 in Chicago.

Officials consider reducing sewage rates in district

The Madison County Special Sewer Committee is considering rolling back user rates for customers served by the Special Service Area Number One, the county's sanitary sewer district in Nameoki, Chouteau and parts of Venice townships.

Although a resolution to reduce the rates was included on Wednesday's County Board agenda, Sewer Committee Chairman Morris Miles withdrew the resolution from consideration. He told the Press-Record he hopes to present it to the board again next month.

MILES explained that the resolution was withdrawn because the sewer district has no contract yet with Granite City for sewage treatment, consequently the committee doesn't know how much the district will be charged for treatment.

But, Miles said, he hopes user rates can be reduced by $1. "I feel like the district has come a long way. We've got a lot of users, and the people deserve to have their rates lowered, if and when we can."

When the district was established, the average homeowner was paying $11.80 a month for sewage treatment. When additional funds became necessary, the county board raised the rates $4, but later reduced the rate again by $1.

CURRENT users pay an average of $14.80 per month for sewer services in the district.

Miles said he hopes to meet with Granite City officials soon to obtain a contract for sewage treatment.

Ainad Shrine Motor Patrol captures three top awards

Three first place motorcycle trophies and the Russell Teague parade trophy were awarded to the Ainad Shrine 400 Motor Patrol in competition conducted during the weekend in Chicago.

Also, the Great Lakes Association of Shrine Motor Corps presented Vernon Clutts, president of the association with a trophy in appreciation of his work during the year. He also is the captain of the 400 Motor Patrol Unit.

The Great Lakes Association includes the states of Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin and Ontario, Canada and this year chose Chicago for the weekend event.

The local group won its first trophy on Friday night at Soldiers Field when all units, men and equipment were inspected by a police team. They also received first place trophies for the next two events a drill competition that consisted of drill precision maneuvers and the final event that was an obstacle course contest where Richard Kagy and John Tucker ran the obstacle course representing the unit.

An awards banquet was held at the Diplomat West in Elmhurst, Friday night, with President, Clutts presiding. He extended appreciation to the officers and presented each one with a plaque. John Hamm of the motor patrol also served as secretary-treasurer of the Association this past year, the president noted.

The patrol members then presented Clutts with a GLASMC president's fee.

All trophies were then awarded to the winners from all states and an election of officers for the forthcoming year was conducted.

Saturday night a four hour Shriners Parade was held on Michigan Avenue in Chicago at which time the units were judged for parade performances.

The 400 Motor Patrol won the Russell Teague Parade Trophy that is a traveling trophy presented to one unit named the best motor cycle drill team in the parade. The prize will be engraved with the winning team name and will be passed on next year to the top participants.

This trophy has never been won by Ainad Shrine, it was announced.

Those participating in the competition were Clutts, John Tucker, Grant Harbison, Don Masters, Ray Stewart, John Hamm, Merle Pirtle, Leo Wolford, Richard Kagy, Al Warren and Tom Caraker.

This particular unit was organized in 1980 and has won trophies each year. During the summer months they ride and perform in parades to make money to support the Shriners Hospital, a spokesman said.

PICK UP JUVENILE TO SEEK PETITIONS

Juvenile petitions were to be filed this week against a 13-year-old boy who allegedly kicked out a window in an apartment building in the 3200 block of Maryville Road during a disagreement with his mother and then ran away.

The boy was picked up at Worthen Park on the advice of his probation officer and was taken to police headquarters, pending filing of the detention petitions.

FOAM INSULATION TAKEN

Mike Spater, 201 Madison Ave., Madison, told Venice police late last week that someone took a pallet of foam insulation from his tractor-trailer. His truck had been parked at Curley's Diner, 1018 Broadway, Venice, when the theft occurred.

Council endorses Enterprise Zone plan

Granite City aldermen joined with the city of Madison Tuesday night in endorsing a plan that will make part of the city an Enterprise Zone.

Aaron Ridenour, economic development coordinator from Madison County, told city council members that the purpose of the Enterprise Zone is to foster economic development in depressed areas of the state by inducing private economic development through provisions of tax incentives and relaxation of government controls.

The local Enterprise Zone would be composed of all of the city of Madison and most of the city of Granite City, a total of 9.75 square miles. Madison council members approved the idea at their council meeting Sept. 11.

If the zone is implemented, Ridenour said the Madison and Granite City will work together with Madison County. The joint venture

Bids sought for I-270 patching

The Illinois Department of Transportation will open bids Friday, Sept. 21, for 1.34 miles of concrete patching, grinding and pipe underdrains on Interstate 270 between the Mississippi River Bridge and the Chain of Rocks Canal Bridge, north of Granite City.

In addition, bids will be opened to remove a structure and replace it with a bridge carrying US 40 over the east fork of Silver Creek, 2½ miles southeast of Troy.

Also, bids will be opened for the partial depth bridge removal and bituminous replacement on all west-bound structures in the Poplar St. complex from the B & O Railroad structure, westerly to the Mississippi River Bridge, all in East St. Louis.

LOOT CAMPER SHELL

Various tools and other items, valued at $376, were stolen from a locked camper shell on the pickup truck of William Moreland, 2057 Thirtieth St., while the vehicle was parked at the Moose Lodge, 19th and Adams streets, late last week. A 16-foot aluminum ladder and electric saws and drills were among the property missing.

will attempt to accomplish the following things: market prime industrial property within the zone; market vacant and under-utilized buildings in the zone; increase the number of jobs available in the zone—particularly for zone residents; assist businesses to locate or expand in the zone and to increase the tax base, over the long term, of local units of government.

Ridenour said that an administrative organization will have to be started to coordinate the programs and resources in the communities. He said the organization will consist of Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk, Madison County Chairman Nelson Hagnauer and a subcommittee of professional economic developers.

He said incentives for the program will include a technical incentive network, which will provide assistance and referrals in issuing permits at the federal, state and local levels, as well as land clearance assistance.

Other incentives include: prescreening of the low income eligible workforce; job-training assistance; property tax abatement—a maximum of 100 percent on the increase in assessed value for a maximum of four years; transit service to businesses within the zone and abatement of city sales tax on items purchased and used during construction within the zone.

Although the council endorsed the idea, Ridenour said the group will have to pass an ordinance establishing it as an Enterprise Zone at a later date.

Alderman Sam Whitmer said he sees no problem endorsing the plan. "When we have to actually make some changes (with an ordinance) that is when we will need the total information, because this thing is going to take some study," he said. "But as far as endorsing it, I don't think this will bind the city in any way, shape or form."

A special meeting concerning the Enterprise Zone is scheduled for 6:30 tonight at the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave. Representatives from Madison, Granite City and Madison County will discuss the feasibility of the long-range project.

Taxes may be paid at banks

Most Quad-City area residents had received their tax bills by this week and Madison County officials report that more than $1 million already has been received in tax payments.

Taxpayers are being reminded that they may either mail their tax payments to Michael S. Henkhaus, county collector, 103 Purcell St., Edwardsville, Ill. 62025, or can pay the taxes at any local bank.

The taxes may be paid in two installments, the first due by Oct. 24 and the second by Nov. 26, or both installments may be paid at once by Oct. 24.

Taxpayers are being asked to send the bottom part of the tax bill with their payment. The bottom left portion is for the first installment and the bottom right portion is for the second. If both installments are paid at once, the entire bottom half of the tax bill should be sent with the payment, it was noted.

Aldermen cut solicitation hours

Granite City aldermen gave final approval to an amendment Tuesday night, which changes the lawful hours of solicitation in the city.

According to the amendment, persons soliciting door-to-door will only be allowed to do so from 1 to 6 p.m. on weekdays and Saturdays.

Solicitation is not allowed on Sundays or on any state or national holiday.

The former law allowed solicitation from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on weekdays and Saturdays.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, said earlier that the law had been brought in because solicitation was going on too late in the city. He said at that time that the ordinance applied only to those groups seeking monetary gain.

Humane society sponsors pet adoption program for seniors

A new Pets for People Program, in conjunction with the Humane Society of Missouri, will enable people over the age of 60 to enjoy the love and companionship of dogs and cats and to experience the psychological and therapeutic benefits that pet ownership provides.

The Pets for People Program is made possible by the Purina Pets for People Fund, a non-profit organization, established to provide donations, for the elderly, blind and deaf, enabling them to receive companion pets and support dogs.

The Humane Society of Missouri will coordinate pet selection and adoption procedures. Included in the program, as well as free pet adoptions, are spaying or neutering and important initial veterinary visits.

In addition, pet care accessories and a supply of Purina brand pet food products are provided free of charge.

Originally established by the Humane Society of Missouri as the Golden Friendship Program in St. Louis, this effort has now been funded by Ralston Purina and expanded to other markets throughout the country.

Mary Sherry, director of community programs for the Humane Society of Missouri, expressed her enthusiasm. "We are excited about the Pets for People Program and are expecting an excellent response," she said. "Many elderly people who would ordinarily be unable to adopt pets will now have the opportunity to experience the many joys of pet ownership through the financial assistance provided by the program."

Kathy Wright, executive director of the fund, cites the important benefits that pet ownership provides the elderly. "Psychological and medical research indicates that dogs and cats are good for people," she said. "They provide much needed companionship and actually may provide health from blood pressure to mental state of mind."

"Our program is designed to encourage adoption of homeless animals by responsible individuals and eliminate the initial financial investment that might prove to be a burden for those on limited incomes."

The Humane Society of Missouri will coordinate Pets for People Program activities with volunteers and staff who will counsel prospective pet owners and assist them in completing a brief application form. In most instances, adult dogs and cats will be placed in conjunction with established and recognized adoption guidelines. It is assured a compatible environment for both owner and pet.

Private donations will ensure that all who seek pet companionship may participate. Donations should be made directly to the Humane Society of Missouri and should specify that the gift is intended for the Pets for People Program.

Prospective applicants over the age of 60 may call 1-314-8800 or visit the Humane Society of Missouri at 1210 Mackland Ave., St. Louis, during regular operating hours.

Grants from the Ralston Purina Company to the Purina Pets for People Fund enable the fund to carry out its activities.

HEARS KNOCK AT DOOR AND WEAPON IS FIRED

Sandra Gibson, 4210 Kirkpatrick Homes, was awakened by someone knocking early this week and had started to go downstairs to answer the door when she heard a noise like a gunshot.

It was discovered that someone fired into a bedroom window on the north side of the apartment.

Officers found wadding from a shotgun shell in the room and a spent 12-gauge shell outside in the yard, reports said. An investigation is continuing.

Driver faces DUI charge on Route 3

Venice police charged a St. Louis driver with driving under the influence of alcohol following an accident early this week on Illinois Route 3 at the Wiggins Highline in Venice.

William M. Lafser, 40, of St. Louis, was driving his 1979 station wagon south on Route 3 when he rounded a curve near the highline, allegedly at high speed, and lost control of his vehicle, striking a northbound auto. Quilton A. McCain, 33, also of St. Louis, told police that his 1974 Cadillac was struck in the left side by Lafser's station wagon and spun around in the opposite direction.

Lafser was charged with DUI and speeding. He was released at 5 a.m. Sunday upon posting a $200 cash bond, pending an Oct. 12 appearance in the Granite City court.

Lucas pulled into the store lot and pumped the brakes three times, he told police. The mechanism failed to function and the car went into the front of the store. The building is owned by Southland Corp., of Overland, Mo.

Lucas, who was not listed as injured, was cited for having defective brakes and is to appear for a hearing Oct. 19.

SEMC sets babysitting clinic

The care and supervision of small children is the type of summer and part-time job undertaken each year by many adolescents. But, unlike most occupations, there is little training available which would teach these individuals the skills necessary to insure the safety of their charges.

To aid in this endeavor, St. Elizabeth Medical Center (SEMC) is offering a Baby Sitting Clinic on Saturday, Oct. 6, from 9 a.m. to noon in Pascal Hall to anyone 12 years of age or older.

The clinic, taught by four SEMC registered nurses and the SEMC director of safety, will include such topics as: selecting a babysitting job, job responsibilities, child care and safety, entertaining the child, first aid, poison control, fire safety and answering the telephone.

The cost for the clinic is $5, which covers the cost of materials. Certificates will be awarded upon completion of the clinic. Enrollment will be limited to 50 participants.

For more information and to register for the clinic, interested persons may call SEMC at 798-3256.

Bill increases library funding

Governor James R. Thompson has signed House Bill 2721 into law. The bill, sponsored by Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville), authorizes a five percent increase in library system funding for fiscal year 1985, changing the library system funding formula from $1.09 to $1.145 per capita and from $38.19 to $40.10 per square mile. This represents an additional $736,464 in revenues for Illinois' 18 library systems which are wholly reliant on this income for their operation revenues. The appropriation is contained within the Secretary of State/State Librarian's annual appropriation bill. The Lewis and Clark Library System, for example, which is in Sen. Vadalabene's district, will realize an additional $29,278.25.

Illinois' Library Systems are governed by their membership which consists of the libraries within their geographic area. Library system membership allows libraries to provide materials for their patrons collectively, rather than individually, which no one library can afford to do. These moneys are used for such purposes as extensive reference services, film cooperatives, computerized circulation systems, and specialized and expensive books.

How strong in faith you can be if you concentrate your devotion on our great salvation. God knows what we have need of. He knows we are easily tempted. He knows sin abounds around us. He knows our struggles and our strifes day by day.

God also knows that if we continually dwell on our hardships and our problems, and not on Him, they will become mountains that can't be moved. God is a mountain-mover. A problem solver. He is able to do exceeding great things for us, over and above all that we can ask or even think! Do not neglect to meditate on our great salvation: Christ our Saviour, healer, and baptizer. Change your situation of defeat to victory by ending neglect.

'School Night for Scouting' tonight

"School Night for Scouting," an annual event held under the auspices of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, will take place tonight, Sept. 20, at 12 schools in the Quad-City area.

On this occasion, the local schools will be open to boys and their parents, where those interested are invited to attend meetings and learn more about Cub Scouting and Boy

Scouting. Joe Gosney, Uniwa District Scouting executive, explained.

Area schools where programs will be conducted tonight are: Granite City—Prather, Niedringhaus, Frohardt, Parkview, Maryville, Wilson grade schools and St. Margaret Mary and St. Elizabeth parochial schools. Madison—Blair and Harris grade schools; and in Venice at Venice

Grade School.

Most of the meetings are expected to start at 7 p.m. today, unless parents have received a different time schedule from an individual school, Gosney said.

During the special event, parents and boys will have an opportunity to meet the leaders of the Cub Scout packs and Boy Scout troops and hear about various activities in which troop and pack members can participate.

Cub Scouting is for boys who are at least 8 years old, or are in the third grade.

The Boy Scout program is geared to youths who are at least 11 years old, or are in the sixth grade. Other schools scheduled to have "School Night for Scouting" on future dates are Marshall, Webster and Mitchell grade schools and Sacred Heart Parochial School.

City raises to cost $613,000

Granite City aldermen approved a pay increase ordinance for employees Tuesday night which will cost the city $613,000, according to City Comptroller Joe Miklovic.

Although the city had formerly ratified six percent pay increases retroactive to May 1, 1983, for city hall workers, firefighters, Emergency Medical Technicians, paramedics and sewage treatment plant workers, other city departments listed in the ordinance, had not had raises approved prior to the passage of the ordinance.

Affected groups that are either receiving a lump sum (for May 1, 1983, to April 30, 1984) or a lump sum and increase include: the street department, four city attorneys, the city hall custodian, the inspection department, Safety Inspector Dick Portell, the humane department, the sanitation department, Acting City Engineer Ed Schulze (whose increase is listed under motor fuel tax), City Engineer Joe Miklovic, Fire Chief Don Parente, a part-time worker in the city treasurer's office, Building Inspector Mike DeFunt, former City Engineer Monroe Brewer (retroactive pay until his leaving), civil defense and Police Chief Ronald Vieser and two other police department employees.

The only other groups who have not been covered by the ordinance are the fire and police commissioners, the liquor commissioners and part-time city hall workers. City Clerk Bob Stevens said each are covered by separate ordinances which will have to be modified to provide for an increase.

Elected officials cannot receive an increase, since their salaries are set prior to their election for a four-year period.

Mayor Paul Schuler said that although some of the raises for non-union members had not even been discussed by members of the negotiating committee, it is a customary practice of the city to custody these groups with the same pay increases.

Only two city council members present opposed the ordinance—Aldermen Sharon Ferjak and Jake Varadian.

DAMAGE STEEL COILS AT FERALLOY PLANT

In a burglary at Feralloy Corp., 2500 Nameoki Drive, the intruders defaced six coils of steel, using black spray paint, and stole six candy bars and the keys to a forklift truck, it was reported Monday.

Those responsible entered the production area by forcing open an overhead door on the north end of the building, and then walked through the plant into the cafeteria, where glass covers were broken on candy and cigarette machines, reports said.

Collinsville hearing slated on dangers of leaded gasoline

Governor James R. Thompson announced Monday a series of seven hearings to gather more information about leaded gas use in Illinois and what impact a ban on leaded gas would have on the citizens and businesses in the state.

"The public's testimony on this issue is very important," the governor said. "We want to know how dangerous the unrestricted use of leaded gas is in our state, and how we can cut down on its use. And we must know if we need to do something about the use of leaded gas across the state."

The hearing schedule is: Wednesday, Oct. 17, at 10 a.m. at the Moline Township Hall, 620 Eighteenth St., Moline; Thursday, Oct. 18, at 9 a.m. at the Field Museum of Natural History, Roosevelt Road, Chicago; Friday, Oct. 19, at 9 a.m. at the DuPage County Building, 421 North County Farm Road, Wheaton; Tuesday, Oct. 23, at 10 a.m. at the Collinsville City Hall, 125 South Center, Collinsville; Wednesday, Oct. 24, at 10 a.m. at the State Office Building, 209 West Main, Marion; Thursday, Oct. 25, at 10 a.m. at the Municipal Building, Seventh at Monroe, Springfield; and Friday, Oct. 26, at 10 a.m. in the City Council chambers, 102 N. Neil, Champaign.

Thompson said the Environmental Protection Agency will conduct the hearings without defending or advocating any proposals during the proceedings. The hearings are designed to gather information on the following subjects:

—The dangers of the use of leaded gasoline.

—The number of cars using leaded gasoline.

—The amount of cheating by misfueling now taking place.

—Categories of engines which cannot use unleaded gasoline and how to exempt those types of engines.

Following the hearings, the EPA will submit a report to the governor for his review.

FINDS MAN SEARCHING BEDROOM AT RESIDENCE

Coyette Davis, 2127 Lincoln Ave., walked out of the bedroom and saw a man searching through various items in a bedroom, she told police Monday.

The intruder, described in his 20's with blond shoulder-length hair and a mustache, was wearing a white T-shirt and jeans. He fled from the dwelling when discovered, she said. A search of the area by officers failed to locate the culprit.

City persists in quest for a cut of the lottery

Amid an array of local and regional media coverage, Granite City aldermen Tuesday night unanimously approved a resolution which the city hopes will enable it in the future to receive a cut from state lottery revenues.

The measure, introduced by First Ward Alderman Casner Skubish, is to be presented to the Illinois Municipal League Resolution Committee at the annual convention Sept. 28 through Oct. 1. If the league supports the resolution, Skubish hopes the legislature will approve the enabling legislation this spring.

The resolution contends that the state has "reaped huge profits from the Illinois State Lottery," but has "methodically reduced the amount of revenue formerly made available to municipalities within the state."

It goes on to say that these reductions have placed "extreme financial burdens upon these municipalities and caused them to reduce city services."

Skubish said he feels the city is entitled to a cut of the revenue because lottery sales are draining money from other city businesses. "Someone told me of a young man who had a paycheck for $237 and he put the whole paycheck to numbers' lottery games," he said. "Other businesses in town are being denied that $237 because of the lottery. This money could have gone for clothes or groceries."

ALDERMAN SHARON Perjak commented that she does not think the city has a chance of receiving a share. "When this thing started, (state lottery sales), the whole object of the program was to fund education," she said. "But the money is not going to that, so why do we think we could get some?" (Actually, the lottery was passed with the understanding that profits would aid schools and help fund mental health and developmental disabilities programs.)

Skubish agreed that it is not clear how much of the lottery revenue is really going to education. (An Illinois State Lottery spokesman says 37 percent.) "Although the money is earmarked for education, my understanding is that it goes into the general fund—and there's no accounting for it after that."

"But I hope that support of this resolution will snowball at the Illinois Municipal League convention. It's at least worth a try," he said.

SKUBISH ADDED that he would not be in favor of any special tax that would be placed on the sales, nor would he be in favor of a measure that would cut lottery vendors' profits.

Skubish said he would like to see cities receive one percent of the state's lottery profits. "That could amount to $200,000 to $250,000 a year for this city," he estimated.

Mayor Paul Schuler said he supports the resolution. "Alderman Skubish has brought up some good points and this resolution is well worth a try, although it is a long shot."

School during Easter week voted, opposed

The Granite City Board of Education on Tuesday night adopted a calendar calling for pupil attendance on 176 days, including Nov. 12 and April 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Parents who say Easter week vacations foster family unity and "spread the load" of school by circulating petitions yesterday opposing the April dates. Two mothers said they wanted the strike-preventing days to be made up, but not during Easter week.

Today, they said they are halting the petition drive because they fear the board's decision was closely linked to wording in the new teacher contract.

"Emergency days" in the calendar were deleted by the board, which voted 5-1 to ratify a two-year agreement with Teachers Local 743. Also criticized were the "Money" and "Worthen" were absent. Teachers had ratified it, 191 to 28.

The pact can be terminated next Aug. 15 if the faculty is reduced 401 or fewer, and ended Dec. 31, 1985, if there is no agreement by then on pay and insurance for the second year.

All teachers are to have union dues or an equivalent amount deducted from their pay. Non-members who swear they have conflicting religious beliefs can have the money sent to a non-religious charity.

Sick leave will accumulate to 225 days instead of 200, and major medical insurance rises from $100 to $200,000.

The right of honorably dismissed teachers to be eligible for recall was changed from two years and the sixth day of the year to the third year, to four years and the sixth day in the fifth year.

Strikes and lockouts are barred while a contract is in effect, but there can be informational picketing.

ding in Congress, would limit steel imports to 15 percent.

REPORTERS from the Press-Record and the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch attended the closed-circuit telecast at the KETC Television of the House of Representatives on Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 1 p.m. Tuesday, as Williams appealed for the ITC recommendation to be adopted; He did not know that, at that time, the House of Representatives was rejecting the ITC-proposed import quotas.

Williams said he was making his opening remarks, Williams fielded questions from reporters in 15 cities, including St. Louis, on the state of the steel industry and the need for limiting steel imports.

Last month, Williams said, a "shocking" 34 percent of steel in the United States market was imported. "That's a shocking one out of every three tons of steel," he said, saying that if imports are not curbed, he believes the American people will soon realize the drastic effect steel imports are having on jobs and the economy and will push their elected officials to impose import quotas.

Williams said the United Steelworkers were taking a "two track approach" to solving the domestic steel crisis. One track, rejected Tuesday by the president, was approval of the ITC recommendations by the president, who had to act by next week. The other track was the passage of the Fair Trade in Steel Act, which would limit imports of steel of all types to 16 percent of the American market.

Speakers to educate youth about drug, alcohol abuse

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and the Granite City Chemical People Task Force are sponsoring two lectures next week in celebration of "Drug Free Youth Week."

Both lectures will be conducted at the Granite City Township Hall, 2000 Delmar Ave., from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The first will be held on Monday, Sept. 24. Guest speakers will be Rich Schardan, a Granite City police officer, assigned with the Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois, and Tom Michael, assistant to the mayor.

Also speaking will be Ginny Dellamano, coordinator of Family and Outpatient Services at Talbot Hall. Mrs. Dellamano has a masters degree in social work and has worked in the alcoholism field for 14 years. She will talk on Chemical Dependency and the Effects on the Family of the User.

Another special activity for "Drug Free Youth Week" will be hosted by various groups on Saturday, Sept. 29, at the Wilbur Park Ice Skink. The Youth Activity Fair will feature booths and musical groups from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Armed robbery last night at shoe store

Two men clerks at the Payless Shoe Store, 3020 Madison Ave., were forced into a bathroom at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday by two robbers who wedged a chair against the door.

The employees were able to escape and called police, who determined that the robbery failed in an effort to open a cash register.

A man 5-8 tall, 155 pounds, age 35, thin build, with curly black hair and a mustache, displayed a blue steel pistol. The other man was 5-6, 150, age 30. Both were black.

The robbers took the wallet of each clerk. One wallet contained $2 and the other had a variety of keys.

The pair walked in the store until their customers left. Then, while one was trying on boots, the other drew the handgun.

Imported steel quotas

The Fair Trade in Steel Act currently is stalled in the House Ways and Means Committee, possibly because the chairman of that committee wanted to see what the president did with the ITC recommendations before bringing the Fair Trade in Steel Act to a vote in the House.

A majority of the House of Representatives has co-signed the Fair Trade in Steel Act and a large number of Senators are co-sponsoring it, but not a majority in the Senate, Williams said.

HE PREDICTED that the Senate will pass the act, since it limits imports at a level far more liberal than any other major steel producing country and it requires that additional profits made by the steel industry during the five years the act is in effect be put back into plant modernization and new equipment so the domestic steel industry can be "competitive with the rest of the world" by the end of that five years.

Dan Hines, spokesman for the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp., said Wednesday that there has been no official reaction by National Steel officials.

Hines declined to comment on the apparent turnaround in opinion by among some top steel officials. David M. Rorick, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., was quoted by Associated Press as saying: "Reagan's program 'moves to correct the steel trade problem in a comprehensive and enforceable fashion.'"

BETHLEHEM Steel's president, Donald H. Trautlein, agreed, saying, "The president has taken a major step to address the serious injury being inflicted on the domestic steel industry by unfairly traded imports," according to AP.

Trautlein's support for Reagan's actions is particularly puzzling because Bethlehem Steel was among those filing the complaint with the ITC which led to the ITC's finding that imports have imposed serious injury to the American steel industry and limited quotas should be imposed for a five-year period while the industry reinvests the new profits to modernize and expand domestic steel facilities.

Williams said a five-year period of reduced imports would allow use of "improved technology, American know-how, and we can have an industry competitive with the rest of the world." Failure to impose quotas will, undoubtedly, force the steel industry deeper into a red ink hole.

"If we don't do anything about imports, somewhere in the country there will be some shutdowns," he predicted.

WILLIAMS SAID he believes the 15 percent import limitation of the Fair Trade in Steel Act is reasonable and noted that the United States leaves America "the most open market in the world." He said most European countries limit imports 10 to 11 percent. Japan's steel imports are four to five percent and other countries, including the Soviet Union, are even more restrictive.

He noted that approximately 200,000 American steelworkers are still out of work. "If we are able to win everything we seek in import quotas, 35,000 jobs would be created directly in the industry and there would be another 2½ to 3 jobs for each in related industries," he said.

While that would not put all steelworkers back to work, other programs could further help such as reduced work hours per man, so more could be employed. Retraining is needed for those who cannot be put back to work with their current skills, "but that's not the problem," he said. "If we take a firm position against any further concessions in the steel industry."

"I don't believe the problem will be solved by workers accepting a situation like South Korea where wages are about $2 an hour. That would wipe out the standard of living for all Americans. If we wipe out those middle-income jobs, we wipe out home purchasing, support for schools and purchasing power. We would be wiping out America's standard of living as a whole," he said.

ASKED IF he believes steelworkers will accept further concessions to make domestic mills more competitive with foreign mills, Williams said, "We take a firm position against any further concessions in the steel industry."

He said that if the problem is solved by workers accepting a situation like South Korea where wages are about $2 an hour. That would wipe out the standard of living for all Americans. If we wipe out those middle-income jobs, we wipe out home purchasing, support for schools and purchasing power. We would be wiping out America's standard of living as a whole," he said.

COIN COUNTER MISSING

A coin counter valued at $750 was stolen from a vehicle which was parked for a while on the corner of E. 12th St. and Washington Ave. last week. The vehicle from which the equipment was taken belongs to a service repairman, it was noted.

Open the floodgates! Warriors whip Tigers

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

Sports Editor

of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — Both Granite City High School's and Edwardsville's varsity soccer coaches searched for reasons why Tuesday's non-conference game at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville ended the way it did.

Their reasons were as varied and as far apart as the eventual 4-0 score which favored Granite City.

Tiger Coach Fran Dwyer was ecstatic after the match. For him and his kickers, the match was not a loss, but a statement of how far the Tiger soccer program progressed.

"We were right in it for most of the game, for about 70 minutes," explained a jubilant Dwyer. "I think it (the loss and Granite City's consequential flurry of goals) can be attributed to a couple of things."

"I think put plainly and simply we wore out. We really played hard. Anytime you play a high caliber team like Granite City with the intensity that we did tonight, the kids need some kind of reward — a goal," Dwyer said.

"That reward, that goal, didn't come tonight. Consequently, we couldn't keep up the intensity any longer and, well, you saw what happened."

Dwyer's assessment was right on track. After a high-tempoed, scoreless first half, Granite City broke on top in the second quarter, at 27:36, when Jim Chomko pushed Scott Blasi's corner kick past Tiger keeper Neil Glasgow.

But even that goal — the one which gave the Warriors a lead — didn't deter Edwardsville. The deterring would come later, in the fourth quarter when the Warriors would rally for three more goals in a 10-minute span.

For Warrior coach Gene Baker and the Warriors, Tuesday's matchup at Cougar Field was one of refamiliarization and discovery.

"WE LIKE playing here because it's where the sectional tournament will be played," Baker said of SIUE. "Some of our kids have played there before, but many haven't. It'll be easier during the sectional now that we've played here."

That accounted for refamiliarization. Baker's discovery came late in the game.

Playing without the services of Scott Grote, who is temporarily sidelined because of strained ligaments in his left ankle, and three-year starting goalie Jeb Blasingame, the Warriors discovered an unlikely star in junior Dennis Gaudreault.

Unlike, not because Gaudreault is without talent — he certainly has that, but rather, he's a junior excellent on a team which is noticeably laden with seniors.

Apparently, Gaudreault's talents and his ability to score twice within a 10-minute span, was not too big a surprise for Baker. The Warrior coach had the 6-footer playing striker, midfield and back during Tuesday's game.

"His second goal was the prettiest of the two," Baker said of Gaudreault. "Although his first was the ice-breaker, the one that opened the way for the final two."

AFTER AN aggressively played three and a half quarters — a span which saw the Warrior fouls outnumber the Tigers 2 to 1 — the Warrior offense and Gaudreault began to make their shots count.

At 71:31, Todd Adamitis pushed a head ball towards Chomko, who shot at Glasgow. Glasgow prevented the score, but deflected the ball back out in front of the goal mouth for the awaiting Gaudreault.

Working fast, Gaudreault settled in and fired, the shot, to the left side of the goal, beat the sprawling Glasgow. Less than two minutes later, Gaudreault was at it again. This time, at 73:46, his shot was something to behold. From what appeared to be about 25 yards out, Gaudreault dribbled past one defender, moved laterally to the right, and then rifled a hooking, strong-legged shot which Glasgow never touched.

Leading 3-0, the party wasn't over yet. Two minutes and five seconds later — at 75:41 — and with numerous substitutions in the game, the Warriors displayed their depth as Matt MacLaughlin unloaded a long, booming shot of his own which also found the back of the net.

IN SHORT order, the Warriors had turned a very close ball game into a blowout.

"We were simply the ones who [finished]," Baker said of the Warrior scoring flurry. "We were the ones pressing, an awful lot of pressure. Not the rock 'em sort 'em kind of pressure, but controlled pressure."

"There were a number of reasons why the game ended the way it did. One reason could be conditioning, we outlasted them. And another may have been our depth."

As Linda Briner and Robyn Morten blisters Kim Daubenspeck 6-1, 6-1 Williams, a junior, played two years ago as a freshman at Granite City North under Coach John Van Buskirk and then sat out last year because of an injury.

"She's been quite a surprise, a pleasant one at that," Harmon said. "She's done a lot of things well."

IN DOUBLES competition, Maria Parra and Dawn Schwartz continued their winning ways as they upended Roxana's first doubles team of Katie Ralch and Missy Stanton. The Granite City duo allowed the Roxana pair to win but a single game enroute to a 6-0, 6-1 victory.

Incidentally, the pair has yet to lose a game, including the two dual pairings with Collinsville and Roxana and action in the Highland Invitational tournament last weekend.

In second doubles, Andrea Suarez and Jill Werthe made winning look as easy as they defeated Shelly Antoine and Chris Jones by an identical score of 6-0, 6-1.

IN THIRDS doubles, the final pairing of the afternoon, the Warriors continued flexing their collective might

AFTER having lost to Belleville and Kaskaskia on Monday, Coach Briggs saw Tuesday's game as a pick-me-up for her team.

"I think they saw they can win under pressure. They were tired from last night's game, but they still hustled and played well," said the Granite City coach.

Several of the Granite City players had their best games of the short season Tuesday night. Kelly Anderson of Edwardsville and Jamie Essensepp of Highland were perhaps the most outstanding in their positions.

Essensepp, the Stars' setter, paced the team with several key sets.

"JAMIE HAD her best game setting tonight," said Coach Briggs. "I told her to start attacking more and she really did tonight."

"I think she was getting better passes too, so that might have helped her."

Anderson led the Star attack with her powerful spiking. Although virtually unheard from in some of the games, Anderson came alive in Tuesday's match to lead her team to victory.

"I thought, Kelly spiked really, really well tonight," said Mrs. Briggs. "It was her best game so far."

THE STARS' coach also singled out Veronica Williams and Leticia Miller as having exceptional offensive games.

Defensively the Stars also showed a new found talent — blocking.

"I was really pleased with the blocking we had tonight. They have started adjusting to the different hitters," said Briggs.

Serving, what might be called the Star's Achilles Heel, was still a problem for the Granite City team Tuesday night. Although Coach Briggs felt their serving was better than usual, the Stars still lost several scoring opportunities because of missed serves.

Despite the difficulties with serving, Coach Briggs felt that Tuesday's game was the Star's best of four thus far.

"I couldn't single out one girl who played the best tonight," said Mrs. Briggs. "They all played really well."

There were a bunch of reasons why," Baker said. "The reasons were many, but the Warrior coach cited Gaudreault as one of them. 'He had a standout game,'" Baker said.

In addition to Gaudreault, Baker mentioned the performances of Chomko, Adamitis, Dave DeRousse and Terry Dutko as being "exceptional."

Dutko, a junior, was the starting goalie Tuesday night in place of Blasingame. According to Baker, the change in keepers does not reflect a permanent in keepers, but merely an opportunity for Dutko to continue his development. Warrior fans may remember Dutko from last year's state tournament. He and Blasingame alternated keeper's chores in the penalty kick situation during the game with Glenbrook North.

"TERRY'S probably the best backup goalie that we've ever had," Baker said recently. And as for Blasingame, the Warrior coach said he will return to his starting role for one of the next two games.

Not only were the varsity kickers superb in their efforts against the Tigers, but so was the jayvee squad. Also winning 4-0, the junior kickers scored on efforts by Bill Alexandrian, Fred Becker, Steve Becker and Rich Nelson.

Both squads will return to action this afternoon as they host Southwestern Conference opponent Belleville West today at 6 p.m. Friday, another SWC opponent will come to the Granite City, as the Warriors host Alton at 4 p.m. That game, only a varsity contest, was originally scheduled to be the Warriors' opener on Sept. 5, but was postponed because of the teachers' strike.

On Saturday, Granite City will host Harrisonville, Ind., High at 11 a.m.

One final soccer note. On Monday it was learned from SIUE soccer coach Bob Guelker that Granite City's game with CBC, the Missouri state champions, before the Bronze Boot Game on Oct. 26 has been cancelled because of a NCAA ruling prohibiting exhibition high school games prior to a college event.

For Friday Matchup
Warriors prepare for Flyers

By JOE THOMPSON

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — It is the classical beginning to a familiar joke.

Their season Friday night at Warrior Coach Ron Yates earlier this week. Who would be there but a couple of kids who said they wanted to play football.

"Fine, indeed. Except that one was a freshman and not eligible for varsity," Yates said. "The other was a sophomore. He was eligible. Problem was he wasn't all that big and certainly not fierce looking, what with being about 5-5 and 130 pounds. He had the spirit, though it was clear to see he needed to eat more Wheaties."

"I'M COULDN'T have been about 120 pounds," Yates said, raising his arm about six inches above his six-foot plus frame.

"Yes, you couldn't have been, but the Warriors will need all the help they can get when they open their season Friday night at Warrior Field. Kick-off time is 7:30 p.m."

They play the vaunted East St. Louis Flyers. In the Flyers, the Warriors will be squaring off against a collection of athletes that is rated the second best high school football team in the country by the nationally circulated newspaper.

IN THE Flyers, the Warriors will be facing a team that already has dished off three opponents in as many weeks by the combined score of 121-13. And, too, the Flyers might even be stronger than the team of last year, who won the last State championship, and is not about to let the rosy press clippings swell their helmets.

Sorry, Warriors. The Flyers don't intend to take you lightly.

"I've never had a football team that got the big head," said Bob Shannon in his ninth year as the Flyers' head coach.

"The fact that the Warriors have had to forfeit their first two games because of a teachers' strike has not softened Shannon's approach to the game any."

No, sir, Shannon has been reminding his Flyers what happened in 1982.

"We were on strike," said Shannon. "We didn't play a game until the third week of the season. Then we played Belleville West."

The final score? "We won," said Shannon. "34-0. Granite City is in the same situation we were in then."

WHILE it's true that anything is possible, "a break here, a break there," said Yates, really says it will take a heroic effort by the Warriors to pull it out.

Yates expects as much. Indeed, he talks a lot about spirit.

"We have to play with emotion and intensity," he says.

He talks a lot about concentration. "Our mental discipline will have to be at a peak," he says. "We have to concentrate on our jobs. We don't want anyone out there thinking about where the other team is from, or the fans in the stands. You do your job and hope your other 10 teammates do theirs."

SO, THE battle lines are drawn. Unfortunately for the Warriors, the lines already have been severely weakened.

Kurt Hyla, a tri-captain and one of the Warriors' premier players at flanker back and defensive halfback, broke the fibula in his right leg during a tackling drill Saturday. He will be out for the season. It is a severe jolt.

"A terrific blow," said Yates. "He was one of the best."

There will be others who it is hoped will pick up the slack. The Warriors will field a team that includes such stalwarts as captains Chris Luffman, a 6-2, 265-pound tackle and 200-pound offensive guard and linebacker Tim Moran. Both are seniors.

ALSO included are such senior players as Dale Schaefer, a 5-11, 200-pound lineman; 6-2, 215-pound defensive tackle Ronnie Cook; Eric Graves, a 5-10, 160-pound split end; Eric Mueller, a 5-10, 160-pound center; 5-10, 175-pound fullback Steve Jacobs; quarterback Shane Cole, a 5-10, 160-pound; Chris Lyle, a 5-10, 160-pound defensive back; 6-2, 180-pound Chris Reuter; Gary King, a 6-3, 205-pound offensive tackle and defensive end; and Boyd Presley, a 6-1, 185-pound split end.

As for the Flyers, they will be aided greatly by the return to the lineup of 6-4, 235-pound tackle Jeff Howard. He did not practice last week due to an injury.

TWO PLAYERS who have been giving opponents fits this season are among the Flyers' youngest: tailback Kerwin Price and fullback Ronnie Clark. Both are sophomores.

"The two are reasons why the Flyers may be stronger than last year's team which averaged a mere 21 points per game."

Price leads the Flyers in scoring with seven touchdowns. He has rushed for 291 yards, averaging 5.6 yards per carry.

The 5-11, 185-pound Clark is averaging eight yards per rush.

Other Flyers who have dazzled this year are Lavent Baylock, a 5-10, 170-pound senior cornerback and wide receiver. Baylock has led his team with 10 receptions for 141 yards.

Defeat Shells 5-2

Netters win second in a row

ROXANA — Granite City High School's tennis team upset its record to 2-0 Tuesday as the Warriors posted a 5-2 victory over the Shells.

After dropping both the first and second singles matches, the Warriors rallied to win the next five matches to clinch its second victory in as many tries.

In first singles, Sherri Ousley squared off against Angie Nutt and emerged "without a sweat" as the stronger Roxana netter outbatted the Warrior to win 6-0, 6-0.

In second singles, Angela Pinkston lost a hard-fought match to Marcie Keller 2-6, 3-6, despite playing several deuce matches.

IT WAS in third doubles that the Warrior luck began to change. Beth Suess dropped her first set against Betsy Diamond 4-6, but came back in the final two sets to pick up the Warriors' first win. Suess won the pairing 4-6, 6-4, 7-3.

In fourth singles, Marsha Williams, the girl coach Dick Harmon calls a "pleasant surprise," blistered Kim Daubenspeck 6-1, 6-1.

Williams, a junior, played two years ago as a freshman at Granite City North under Coach John Van Buskirk and then sat out last year because of an injury.

"She's been quite a surprise, a pleasant one at that," Harmon said. "She's done a lot of things well."

IN DOUBLES competition, Maria Parra and Dawn Schwartz continued their winning ways as they upended Roxana's first doubles team of Katie Ralch and Missy Stanton. The Granite City duo allowed the Roxana pair to win but a single game enroute to a 6-0, 6-1 victory.

Incidentally, the pair has yet to lose a game, including the two dual pairings with Collinsville and Roxana and action in the Highland Invitational tournament last weekend.

In second doubles, Andrea Suarez and Jill Werthe made winning look as easy as they defeated Shelly Antoine and Chris Jones by an identical score of 6-0, 6-1.

IN THIRDS doubles, the final pairing of the afternoon, the Warriors continued flexing their collective might

AFTER having lost to Belleville and Kaskaskia on Monday, Coach Briggs saw Tuesday's game as a pick-me-up for her team.

"I think they saw they can win under pressure. They were tired from last night's game, but they still hustled and played well," said the Granite City coach.

Several of the Granite City players had their best games of the short season Tuesday night. Kelly Anderson of Edwardsville and Jamie Essensepp of Highland were perhaps the most outstanding in their positions.

Essensepp, the Stars' setter, paced the team with several key sets.

"JAMIE HAD her best game setting tonight," said Coach Briggs. "I told her to start attacking more and she really did tonight."

"I think she was getting better passes too, so that might have helped her."

Anderson led the Star attack with her powerful spiking. Although virtually unheard from in some of the games, Anderson came alive in Tuesday's match to lead her team to victory.

"I thought, Kelly spiked really, really well tonight," said Mrs. Briggs. "It was her best game so far."

THE STARS' coach also singled out Veronica Williams and Leticia Miller as having exceptional offensive games.

Defensively the Stars also showed a new found talent — blocking.

"I was really pleased with the blocking we had tonight. They have started adjusting to the different hitters," said Briggs.

Serving, what might be called the Star's Achilles Heel, was still a problem for the Granite City team Tuesday night. Although Coach Briggs felt their serving was better than usual, the Stars still lost several scoring opportunities because of missed serves.

Despite the difficulties with serving, Coach Briggs felt that Tuesday's game was the Star's best of four thus far.

"I couldn't single out one girl who played the best tonight," said Mrs. Briggs. "They all played really well."

For Hunting & Fishing Day
Reagan asks sportsmen's help

President Ronald Reagan, noting that hunters and fishermen "provide the major source of funds for the nation's wildlife conservation efforts," has urged all Americans to join with them in their efforts to ensure a bright future for this country's natural and wildlife resources.

In his official statement prepared for National Hunting and Fishing Day, Saturday, Sept. 22, President Reagan pointed out that hunters and fishermen helped found the conservation movement more than 100 years ago because they had seen firsthand the serious decline of wildlife caused by expanding civilization.

To help fund wildlife restoration and habitat acquisition programs, the President has urged all Americans to join with them in their efforts to ensure a bright future for this country's natural and wildlife resources.

National Hunting and Fishing Day continues to grow in size and importance each year. Millions of sportsmen and non-sportsmen are expected to participate this year in more than 2,500 separate National Hunting and Fishing Day activities at sportsmen's clubs, schools, shopping centers and wildlife management areas across the country.

For information on how to participate in National Hunting and Fishing Day, persons may write NHP Day Headquarters, P.O. Box 1075, Riverside, CT 06878.

SIUE near 'must win' status

EDWARDSVILLE — It may be too early to call them "must win," but if the 1984 soccer Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are going to regain the former team's status as a competitive NCAA Tournament appearances, they are going to have to start this weekend.

The Cougars, who saw their record slip to 2-3 after dropping a pair of games at the Duke University Classic last weekend, will square off against Southern Methodist University, Friday at 7 p.m., and North Texas State University, Sunday at 2 p.m. Like SIUE, Southern Methodist and North Texas are considered among the top teams in the Midwest Region.

Last weekend, at the Duke University Classic, the Cougars twice battled back from two-goal deficits to push through a goal of the host Blue Devils. Duke, ranked seventh nationally by the coaches poll, jumped out with two goals in the first 49 minutes before Bill Stallings took a pass from Bruce Banger for the first of his two goals. His second goal, which came after Duke opened a 3-1 margin, came at the 70:01 mark when G. P. Boyer connected with hunters and fishermen requested special taxes on their equipment and license fees, the President also noted. "Through these and private contributions," he said, "sportsmen have provided more than $5 billion for conservation in this country."

As examples of the success of these sportsman-financed programs, the President cited the dramatic comebacks of many wildlife species. "Today, there are more white-tailed deer, wild turkey, wood duck, elk and pronghorn antelope than there were in 1900," said President. He also pointed out that these programs benefit hundreds of other species, including the bald eagle, whooping crane and peregrine falcon.

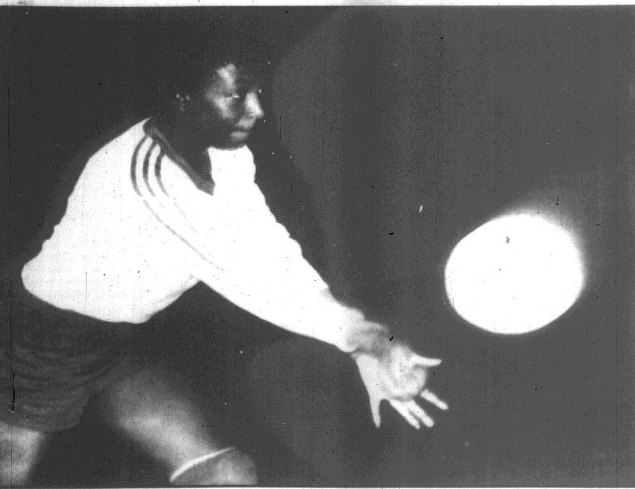

Saturday, Sept. 22, marks the 13th

Two red cards in the second game, against the University of South Florida, kept the Cougars from making another comeback from behind effort as SIUE dropped a 3-1 decision to the Bulls.

Following the two games in Dallas, the Cougars return home for a Sept. 28 contest against Quincy College and a Sept. 30 battle with the Warriors of Marquette University.

The Quincy game is scheduled to get underway at 7:30 p.m., while the Marquette game will kick-off at 1:30 p.m.

The Red Devilettes won the match, along with a victory Tuesday over Warden, to improve their record to 4-0. Lancers turn back Warriors

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Hoping for their first win of the short season, the Granite City High School volleyball Warriors took the floor Wednesday against Belleville East.

Although managing to capture one game from the Lancers, the Warriors were unable to win the match as they were defeated 15-8, 7-15, and 11-15.

Despite being beaten by the Lancers, the Warriors played exceptionally well for only their second game of the season.

"I'm so pleased with the way they played tonight," said Warrior Coach Wilma Schulze. "It was a beautiful first game."

"In the second two games, all we needed was a couple good attacks," Coach Schulze added after her team's defeat. "I don't think East was that strong defensively, so if we could have put down a few more spikes we would have had a good chance."

"We just gave them too many free balls and too many over on two's that we shouldn't have. But that comes with experience, and we haven't had that yet."

The Warrior's game with the Lancers was only their second game of the season, while most of their competitors have played as many as eight to 10 games.

GRANITE CITY did get their jitters out of the way on Tuesday night when they were defeated by Cahokia 15-7, 15-5, and 15-12.

"I think the varsity girls were over anxious against Cahokia. They wanted to make things happen too soon," said Coach Schulze. "They were trying so hard things just didn't click."

In the first game Wednesday it appeared as if the Warriors had put their anxiety behind them. After the Lancers had jumped to a quick 4-0 lead, the Warriors started their comeback.

Behind the strong serving of Michelle Morgan and Debbie Brandt and the consistent spiking of Bridget Watson the Warriors cruised to an easy victory.

In the second game, the Granite City squad looked as if they were going to bury the Lancers early. Watson picked up where she had left off in the first game as she contributed a dink and a spike for two of the Warriors first three points. Two ace serves by Morgan pushed the Warriors lead to 5-0.

A string of poor defense cost the Warriors the lead as the Lancers scored six straight points and took the lead 6-5. The Warriors were barely heard from for the rest of the game as Belleville took the victory.

Granite City again took the lead in the final game of the match, 2-0. Despite two good spike attempts by Brandt, Belleville took the lead 9-4 before the Warriors were able to mount any kind of an attack.

TAMMY JONES led the Warriors in the final game as they began their comeback. Jones contributed with a spike and three blocked shots to help tie the score at 11. However, that was all the offense the Warriors could put together and Belleville went on to win.

In junior varsity action the Warriors were defeated in two straight games, 15-11, 15-6. Despite the loss, Coach Schulze said she was impressed with the play of sophomore Sandy Sternberg.

YMCA Golf tourney is televised

The YMCA Golf Classic, a scramble tournament held Aug. 25, is tentatively scheduled to be aired by South-Western Cable TV in the coming weeks.

Scheduled broadcasts included three different dates on the local programming channel 1-22. It is South-Western's first coverage of the second annual fund-raising event which benefitted the Tri-City YMCA in Granite City.

Granite City viewers who missed the first airing of the tournament last Friday, Sept. 14, at 7 p.m., and the second airing on Tuesday, Sept. 18, will still have one final opportunity to view the final recorded broadcast which is tentatively scheduled for Monday, Oct. 4, at 6 p.m.

Harris: Venice's 4-0, no regrets

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

VENICE Many people who volunteer for jobs usually regret their generosity soon after the work begins.

Clinton Harris, who volunteered this year to coach the volleyball Red Devilettes, fits into a different category. Harris, better known for his boys' basketball and baseball coaching abilities, is in charge of a team that boosted its record to 4-0 after a victory Tuesday over Warden and a win Monday over Metro-East Lutheran.

And to think that before the season Harris had said he would be happy with a 5-0 year. The job has indeed become more rewarding than expected.

"THEY adjusted to me pretty well," admitted Harris, who had taken over for Annetta Ohlendorf. "I'm pretty satisfied with the way we've been playing so far."

Adjustments not only had to be made by the volleyball players, but also by Harris. The Venice coach, said he had never coached volleyball before, although he had played the sport.

"I'm still trying to get used to the different formations," said Harris. "Right now we're sticking with two when they serve, we're in a 1-2-3 formation and when we serve, we're in the basic 3-3."

HARRIS said this is also the first time in his career that he's coached girls. He pointed out a few changes he's had to make.

"When boys do something wrong, you can reach out and shake them," he said, motioning with his hands. "But with girls..." Harris paused and added, "You just have to talk."

The talking has evidently been working. The Red Devilettes defeated Assumption in their opening match and followed it with a victory over Livingston. It took just two games Monday for Venice to defeat the Metro-East Lutheran Knights, 15-13 and 15-10.

SENIORS Cassandra White and Teresa Petty were especially impressive with their serves. White, who scored on 15 serves, helped the Red Devilettes convert a 10-13 deficit into a 15-13 victory in the first game and also gave her team a 7-1 lead in the second game. Petty scored on 10 serves, including the game-winning point in the final game.

"I've been working a lot lately with Teresa (Petty) on her serves," said Harris. "Today was really the first time the power serve was worked for her."

"But Cassandra (White) is the best server on the team. She's had a good serve from the start."

JUNIOR Chantley Bradley, who stands 5-foot-11, has the best potential for working her way to be the team's main spiker.

"I have to get her jumping better," said Harris. "She's not jumping when the ball is at its peak. She's jumping late and hitting the ball into the net too much. That's something we have to work on."

Metro-East Lutheran dropped to 3-3 with the defeat. Coach Barbara Dwyer blamed mistakes for the loss to Venice, including seven serves that went out-of-bounds or into the net.

"I don't think we played up to our potential," she said. "Plus, the 4-3 formation is new for the team this year. We're still getting used to it and some girls are having difficulties adjusting. But the season is still young."

Venice's next match is scheduled for 6:30 tonight at Alton Marquette.

Waterloo ends Trojans' string

MADISON — There were some bright moments in the Madison High School soccer Trojans' match with Waterloo Gibault Monday here.

There was also a bottom line: Gibault 3, Madison 0.

The loss ends the Trojan win streak at three — which had been a record for them. It also drops their season mark to 3-2-1 and record in the Mid-South Soccer Conference to 0-2-1.

The not-so-bright moments can be found in the statistics. Gibault bombarded Trojan goalkeeper Patrick Glasper with 10 shots to go on goal forcing Glasper to make seven saves. In the meantime, the Trojans managed just four shots on goal and eight overall. The Gibault keeper was called on to make just four saves.

Another telling statistic was in corner kicks, where Gibault recorded 10 to one for the Trojans.

Said Trojan coach Gene Briggs, "We're just not aggressive. We just don't go to the ball."

Another sad statistic for the Trojans was in fouls. Gibault was called for 21 to the Trojans' five.

"THAT MEANS they bargued us," said Briggs. "That means they pushed us all over the field and we didn't retaliate. I don't like the fact we allowed them to push us around. If it's a physical game, you have to match physical with physical."

Briggs, though, did see a bright spot, a silver lining that speaks well for future matches.

"Even though we were losing, we didn't give up," said Briggs. "As far as I'm concerned, a team that is willing to try always has a chance for victory."

Jayvee no match for Flyerettes

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

MADISON — The Madison High School junior volleyball team pulled double duty Wednesday night against East St. Louis and lost in the varsity contest 15-1 and 15-3.

Madison Coach Carol Cole "bench-ed" the entire varsity squad for the evening and started the first Jayvee team in its place. For Madison, trying to defeat East St. Louis is a difficult enough task, but starting the junior varsity squad against the Flyers is a little like sending the Bad News Bears off to face the Detroit Tigers. And, the result was nearly the same.

EAST ST. LOUIS entered the contest boasting an 8-1 record, losing only to powerful Belleville West. The varsity Trojanettes, on the other hand, were owners of a 2-3 record, having lost to East St. Louis Lincoln the previous night 15-3 and 15-2.

Was the benching a disciplinary action?

"You could call it that," Cole said. "The plan was to show what it's about, so we'll just leave it at that."

East St. Louis Coach Clarence Goldthree agreed with Cole's decision to keep her varsity squad off the court, saying that a good coach must "keep them (the players) in line."

"IF THERE'S no discipline, there's no sense in having them. If you let them go, they'll start trying to run things," Goldthree said of Cole's decision.

Goldthree had things well in hand in the first game as it took his Flyerettes needed only 10 minutes to dispose of Madison.

In the second game the Trojanettes played with more intensity. Kim Webb gave Madison a 1-0 lead with a spike that seemed to fire up her teammates. The lead was brief. East St. Louis went out front 4-2, but Madison battled back to trail by one, 6-5. Unfortunately, that was all the scoring the Trojanettes would do. The next nine points and the game belonged to the Flyerettes.

East St. Louis also won the junior varsity game 15-6 and 15-9. Next Thursday the Trojanettes travel to Lebanon to take on the Greyhounds. Game time is 6:30 p.m.

Local DU chapter raises $4,600

The cause of North American waterfowl conservation was given an added boost this week when the Granite City Ducks Unlimited committee forwarded more than $4,600 raised at its recent banquet to DU National Headquarters.

Commenting on the festive event, Granite City committee chairman, Tony J. Zedolek, said, "It certainly was a successful turnout at this year's fundraiser. It's also reassuring to know that the lion's share of every dollar we raised will be funneled directly into wetland habitat restoration programs in Canada, where over 70 percent of this continent's ducks and geese are produced." Zedolek went on to congratulate and thank members of the community who donated time and merchandise to guarantee the banquet's success.

In a final statement concerning the future growth of the organization Zedolek said, "Over the past 15 years Ducks Unlimited has grown at a rate of 25 percent compounded annually. Since such growth is essential to the well-being of the waterfowl resource, the Granite City committee is already planning to make next year's DU banquet a record-breaker."

Zedolek thanked Willis Flowers, Ferd's Flowers and Bob's Flowers for the centerpiece donated for the banquet.

Highlanders shut out Stars

By CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

ST. LOUIS — The Granite City Center Stars, fresh off a successful 3-1 road trip in northern Illinois, got a rude welcome home Tuesday night from the Forest Park Community College soccer team.

After a 2-0 halftime score, the Highlanders blew the game wide open by scoring five goals in the final 45 minutes, for a 7-0 victory in the Midwest Junior College Athletic Association contest.

Forest Park upped their record to 2-0 in the conference and 6-0 overall. The Stars, meanwhile, dropped to 0-2 in the conference and 2-3 overall.

FOREST PARK demonstrated its speed and aggressive style from the start. While holding GCC to just five shots in the first half, Forest Park rifled off 12 shots. The domination widened in the second half, with 18 shots for Forest Park and only four for GCC.

"We've always been an aggressive team," said Forest Park coach Jim Bokern, in his sixth season at the school. "I'm very happy with the play so far this season. We knew we had a lot of talent."

Bokern has only four returning players from last year's team. But because his team finished second last season in the National Junior College Athletic Association playoffs, the coach found recruiting quality players to be an easier task.

"The success of the program helped out," admitted Bokern. "The guys know it is a good team. Everybody likes to play for a winning team."

The Stars had their opportunities early in the game. But goalie Kevin Murphy just got his hands on a blistering shot by Jim Doyle, as the ball went flying over the net and out of play. Tim Dean also had a head shot that Murphy saved from going into the net.

"In that first half, we had the opportunity to put a couple in early," said GCC coach Larry Petri. "We didn't and it turned the momentum to them."

INDEED, Bill Hartzell led the scoring at 21:41 on a shot set up by a corner kick. With a slew of players from both teams hovering in front of the net, Chris Saracino kicked the ball to Hartzell's goalie Jeff Lantz for the score.

Fred Cantoni followed with an unassisted goal at 33:21. Cantoni, who picked up the ball near mid-field, dribbled through several GCC defenders before booting one in the goal to the right of diving Lantz.

"It became a mental thing," said Petri. "When they scored one against them and then another quick one against them, the guys were let down."

"This (Forest Park) is a good team. They worked hard. We didn't. We just gave up and let them bring it to a rout."

FOREST PARK had fun doing it, too. Frank Fischer scored with the first shot of the second half. Fischer stole the ball from Dean, dribbled it a few feet and kicked it in for the goal at 51:34.

Chris Hantak, one of the four returning lettermen on the team, followed it one shot later with a goal at 53:32. Hartzell forwarded a pass to Hantak, who booted in a slow roller that made its way into the left corner of the net to put the score at 4-0. Lantz, after diving too early and landing on the ground, was left helpless.

Pete Sharamitaro then made it 5-0 and 6-0 with two quick goals. His first, at 63:17, came off a pass from Frank Frederick. His second came unassisted at 66:40.

DAVE MARET, another returning letterman, scored the final goal of the game at 83:02. Maret had to jump over one of his own teammates and race after the ball in front of the net before scoring. Maret evidently thought it was so much fun that he did a forward flip after the goal.

The only emotion shown by the GCC players was anger. Rick Moder, who earned All-American status last year, was red-carded with about 10 minutes remaining in the contest. Moder, unhappy about an official's call, kicked the ball at the official and also had a few too many words with him before being ejected.

THE STARS, who lost their season opener 6-1 to Lewis and Clark, appeared to be heading in the right direction after winning two of their three contests on the road trip. But after the 7-0 defeat, Petri said everything is now "back to base zero."

"At this point it looks like we could be outmanned by every team in the conference," said a dejected Petri. "This is one of the worst games we've ever played. Nobody had a good game."

"When you play a conference foe, you have to play to your potential and perhaps beyond. We didn't do near that."

Petri said he is especially concerned about team play.

"OUT ON the field, there doesn't seem to be much unity," he said. "They're trying to do too much on an individual basis and not on a team basis."

"One of our biggest problems is that we're too slow to react to anything. We're too slow to react to even a slow pass or from switching to offense to defense. We've got to have a quick tempoed ball game."

The Stars will need to do some quick reorganizing. The team opens their home season Saturday at 1:30 p.m. against Lincoln. Incidentally, Forest Park hammered Lincoln, 9-0, earlier this season.

Technique measures body fat

Monitoring the heart and respiration rate is one of the best ways of measuring a person's health. But, there is another way, one that is more scientific. Figuring one's percentage body fat.

This weekend, a local health club is sponsoring this scientific method — underwater weighing.

The method will determine what percentage of that person's body weight is fat. Less body fat is more healthy, naturally, than someone with more fat. Ideally, men's percentages should be about 15 percent while women's is 22. The national average is 26 percent for men and 36 percent for women.

Persons interested in participating in the underwater weighing technique this Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 22 and 23, should call the Renaissance Fitness Center at 931-5650.

YMCA begins

Scuba classes

The Tri-City Area YMCA will begin a scuba diving class on Sunday evenings, 4 to 10 p.m., Oct. 7 through Nov. 18.

Individuals 15 year or older can receive a full P.A.D.I. certification. Children ages 12 to 14 can receive a junior certification, and 11 year olds can receive skin diver certification. Participants must be at least 11 years of age.

Phil Lamm will conduct the Sunday classes. Three hours will include classroom time, and three hours will be spent in the pool. Students must have basic water skills.

Students will need to supply suits, towels, notebook, and after the first week a mask, fins and snorkel. YMCA members will pay $65 for the 6-week class, while non-members will pay $75.

For more information contact the YMCA at 876-7200.

'Butterflies' is Cloverview program

"The Miracle of Butterflies" was the subject of the conservation preservation program presented to the members of the Cloverview Garden Club by Mrs. Eldon Melkamp in her home, 2429 Lynch Ave., following a dessert luncheon.

The color slides from National Council of State Garden Clubs, St. Louis, were very entertaining and educational.

Mrs. Richard Branding whose hobby for a number of years collecting butterflies provided glass frames containing mounted butterflies native to this area to have on display at the meeting.

To complement the program the same theme was carried out by Mrs. Ray Williamson who gave a resume of the metamorphosis of the butterfly from the larvae stage to the adult.

She stated if approached carefully, butterflies are easier to observe than birds, and their variety is much less complex than the bewildering array of wildflowers. Yet they display a range of behavior as fascinating as that of birds, and all the colors and brilliance of flowers. The life cycle of butterflies is one of the fundamental miracles of nature.

One of the best known butterflies, the Monarch, the Illinois State insect is the only butterfly that annually migrates both north and south as birds do on a regular basis. They winter in California and Mexico. The Monarch is bright, burnt-orange with black veins and black margins sprinkled with white dots. The wings are black-tipped with white and orange spots.

Mrs. B. C. O'Neill, president conducted the business segment of the meeting with Mrs. Clarence Etheridge reading the collect. Reports were given by officers and committee chairmen.

A District U flower arranging workshop was held on Tuesday, Sept. 18 at the Holiday Shores club house. The 14 garden clubs in the District were invited to participate. Other forthcoming events are: District U board meeting at Walton's in Edwardsville, Oct. 18 and President's Council Day in Mascoutah on Oct. 25. Cloverview club is making plans for a plant and household sale at the home of Mrs. George Stearns, 1 Terrace Lane, on Friday, Sept. 28.

Guests included Mrs. Darl Chamberlain, director of District U Garden Clubs of Illinois, from Mascoutah, and Mrs. John Smith, Carlsbad, New Mexico, who is visiting with Mrs. Williamson. Members attending were Mrs. Clarence Etheridge, Mrs. Charles Gandoria, Mrs. George Knapp, Mrs.

School of Nursing awarded $190,163 grant

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Nursing has been funded by the Division of Nursing, Health Resources and Services Administration, Department of Health and Human Services, for the second year of an advanced nurse training grant: "Graduate Program in Medical-Surgical and Community Health Nursing."

Patricia Forni, dean of the School of Nursing, said the grant awards $190,163 in direct costs for the 1984-85 year.

SHE SAID the three-year project provides for significant expansion of the existing master's degree program in two clinical areas: the medical-surgical nursing specialization, begun in fall of 1982, and the community health nursing specialization which will begin fall quarter this year. The grant provides for faculty and student costs.

Dean Forni said there are three special features of the project. One, a lecture series by distinguished nursing leaders is offered three times each year on the topics of nursing practice, role and research. These lectures are open to the public as well as student and faculty at SIUE. "The lectures serve as an enrichment to the nursing programs at SIUE," the dean said.

A second feature provides for a visiting professorship in community health nursing for one quarter during the second year of the project.

THE THIRD feature provides for a feasibility study to determine whether there is a need for a nurse-managed center and to begin its establishment if found to be feasible. The center would be operated by nursing faculty.

Until 1982, the graduate nursing program offered only one specialization: psychiatric-mental health nursing. During the fall of 1982, the pro-

SIUE professor has story printed in archeology text

An article on soil chemical investigations by William I. Woods, faculty member in the department of archeological studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, has been published in "Archaeological Chemistry III, Advances in Chemistry Series 205," Edited by Joseph B. Lambert at Northwestern University, the book is based on a symposium sponsored by the American Chemical Society in Kansas City in 1982.

THE ARTICLE, "Soil Chemical Investigations in Illinois Archeology: Two Example Studies," deals with soil chemical analysis of a prehistoric site and a historic site in Southern Illinois.

In the first project, analysis of soil at the Port de Chartres I site in Randolph County was used to delineate and interpret the boundaries of an 18th century French fort for which no surface remains existed.

In the book, Woods stated that the French constructed at least three forts named Fort de Chartres on the Mississippi River floodplain during the first half of the 18th century. The first two forts, constructed of wood during the 1720s, fell into disrepair and were abandoned within a decade.

A THIRD FORT, erected in the 1750s, was composed of stone. Although original portions of this fort remain, the above-ground features of the first two forts disappeared and knowledge of their whereabouts was lost until recently.

An examination of a 1928 aerial photograph revealed a dark rectangular stain with dimensions conforming with those of the first fort. Soil samples were taken from immediately below the plovstone and were chemically analyzed.

"The qualitative results were found to approximate closely the distribution of subsurface materials and feature fill," Woods said.

SOIL SAMPLES examined for phosphorus, calcium and pH proved to be effective cultural indicators, Woods added.

The second example cited in the article was the Black Earth site in Saline County. Data derived from soils collected during the excavation of a prehistoric midden (refuse heap) were used to determine population parameters for a dated segment of the site's occupation, Woods said.

In order to provide ancillary data relating to the origin and development of the midden, soil samples were collected from excavations. The samples were subjected to 13 basic physicochemical analyses.

WHEN COMPARED to the highly acid, infertile silt loams of the area, Woods said the midden deposit exhibited darker coloration, coarser texture greatly increased pH levels and higher concentrations of all elements tests.

Woods said one outgrowth of the soils work at the Black Earth site was the development of population parameters based on the analytical data.

In his article, the SIUE researcher pointed out that, over the past 50 year, the usefulness of soil chemical analysis to archeology has been demonstrated repeatedly.

"NUMEROUS investigations accomplished since 1972 have both reaffirmed previous findings and indicated directions for future applications," he said, adding that the prospect for continued expansion of this methodology is quite favorable.

IRN gives industry, business tap-on capabilities

Business, industry and government can now tap the expertise of more than 4,000 university faculty across Illinois through Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and six other state universities.

"Through the Illinois Resource Network (IRN), industrial personnel, governmental agencies and others who are asking questions about everything from art and design and computer networking to water purity and zoology can identify researchers who are finding answers," Gov. James R. Thompson said.

"THE ILLINOIS Resource Network is an effective system of gathering Illinois academic talent, one of the state's most valuable assets," he said. "This electronic directory is the only one in the country of such depth and breadth."

The governor said information gleaned from the database may be used to locate faculty for special project consultation, research and development, employee training and inservice seminars, artistic performances or evaluation of application of new technology.

Database search requests can be made at any one of the seven participating state universities - SIUE, Eastern Illinois University, Northern Illinois University, Sangamon State University, SIU at Carbondale, University of Illinois at Chicago and U. of I. at Urbana-Champaign - or at the central office in Urbana.

THE SEARCH is free, and use of the system by out-of-state businesses and organizations is encouraged.

In response to a single word, phrase or specific term from a structured set of 6,500 glossary terms, the system can provide names, campus addresses and current data on the research, teaching and training capability of participating faculty members.

A trained campus network coordinator searches for the information and releases it to the interested persons so they can contact faculty members.

"THE ILLINOIS Resource Network eliminates the haphazard and elusive task of identifying university talent and resources. It is direct and straightforward communication," Vaughn J. Lindsay, dean of Graduate Studies and Research at SIUE, said. "The creation of the system indicates the willingness of the higher education community to bring resources to bear on the problems and issues that challenge the citizenry on a daily basis."

The network was developed by Illinois universities and colleges with the financial support of the Illinois Board of Higher Education and the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, along with the cooperation of the Governor's Commission on Science and Technology and the Illinois State

Chamber of Commerce.

Coordinator for the network on the SIUE campus is Kate Chappell. "It makes the depth and scope of Illinois' academic talent readily apparent," she said. "For example, one electronics company required assistance in deciding whether or not to overhaul spectrophotometry equipment. A subsequent network search identified 13 faculty members with compatible expertise."

RECENT USERS of the network include: Aluminum Company of America, Eastman Kodak, 3M, the Illinois Education Consortium in Springfield, A. E. Staley Co., Gas Research Institute and Bio-Imaging Research.

In Southern Illinois and the St. Louis area, network searches can be conducted by contacting the SIUE Office of Research and Projects, Box 46, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026-1001 or by calling 1-692-3162.

THE NON-CREDIT course is designed for people who have never ridden as well as those who have ridden up to 10,000 miles. The course will include instructions on how to ride a motorcycle and how to make decisions necessary for riding safely.

The course will focus on maintenance and skill development with emphasis on control and the operational aspects essential for survival as a street rider.

Other motor vehicle drivers can benefit from the course by learning first hand what motorcyclists experience and the necessity for developing respect and courtesy for all vehicles on the roadway.

THERE IS NO charge for Illinois residents and motorcyclists, helmets and insurance will be provided to participants. Each person must be at least 16 years of age and have a valid driver's license or learner's permit. Those under 18 must have parental permission to enroll in the course.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED Attorney at Law

A trespasser is an individual who comes onto the property of another without an invitation. Often the question arises as to what duty a property owner owes to a trespasser to protect him from harm. Frequently the situation arises where a trespasser comes on the property of another and is injured while there. Is the property owner responsible in this situation?

Generally, the obligation owed to a person who comes onto one's land depends upon the status of the person coming onto the property. Is the person a social guest, a business visitor, or a trespasser? If a person trespasses on the property of another, generally he does so at his own risk. In most cases, the owner of the property has no duty to keep the premises safe for trespassers. The only exceptions are where the landowner intentionally injures the trespasser or where he exhibits a reckless disregard for the safety of the person who is there without permission.

In one case, a landowner stretched a cable across a road on his property. The owner did not post any warning signs, and the cable was struck by a motorcyclist, resulting in the death of the rider. The Court ruled that since the cable had never been placed across the road before and since the owners knew the road was used by the public, their conduct constituted a reckless disregard for the safety of others. Therefore, the Court found that the owners of the road were liable for the death of the rider.

In a similar case, a Belleville Bank had put a chain across the entrance to its parking lot. It was marked with "no throughfare" signs and stop signs. The chain had been used off and on by the Bank for about a year when a man on a motorcycle came through the lot, hit the chain, and was thrown from his motorcycle and killed.

His survivors brought a wrongful death action against the Bank. At the trial, the men riding with the motorcyclist testified that they knew the chain had been used in the past. Here the Court held for the Bank. It was noted that the lot was not shown to be used by the public on a regular basis after bank hours, and that there was insufficient use to establish it as a public passageway. Furthermore, the Court found that the chain did not pose an unexpected hidden danger.

Costoff picked to head Bellcoff's campaign

Madison Second Ward Alderman Christ Costoff will be the campaign manager for John Bellcoff, candidate for mayor of Madison, it was announced Wednesday in a joint statement by Costoff and Bellcoff. The election will be in April 1985.

Although Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk had he would make an announcement on his intentions to run or not run several months ago, Sasyk has not yet announced if he will be a candidate.

Costoff said, "I want to see Johnny elected. He not only deserves it, Bellcoff is the only one I can say that is really qualified."

Costoff is the immediate past chairman of the Madison County Democratic party and has been a precinct committeeman in Madison since 1982.

Costoff stated, "The Democratic party is for the poor people. It tries to get jobs for the needy and help them. That's one reason I like Johnny so much. Bellcoff likes to help people and get them jobs. He does not make people a lot of empty promises."

Costoff was born in Kerek, Bulgaria, where many of his relatives were in politics, with one being a mayor and another a city clerk in Europe. He came to this country as a young man.

"I am asking a lot of my friends for suggestions of names of people who are interested providing integrity in the city administration and who are interested in making Madison a good place to live in and raise a family."

"I don't want a bunch of 'yes' people," he said. "I want the people of Madison, both in my campaign and also after I am elected mayor," Bellcoff concluded.

Workshop on business loans slated

"If more loan officers, real estate developers, contractors and business owners were aware of the excellent benefits available through the Small Business Administration's 503 Loan Program, more development would be taking place now," according to Rod Wilhelm, operations manager of the Southwestern Illinois Areawide Business Development Finance Corporation (SIABDFC).

"Because we are dedicated to making economic development happen in Southwestern Illinois, we want everyone in the business community to have some knowledge of the SBA 503 Program," he added.

For that reason, the SIABDFC will sponsor a workshop from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 25, at the Granite City Center of Belleville Area College Center, Route 203 (Namekiki Road) at Maryville Road.

Speakers include Melvin Wilmshyer, chairman of the board of Granite City National Bank. Wilmshyer has been an active supporter of small business development and the SBA 503 Program, and he will address the benefits the program offers private lenders.

"Since becoming an SBA 503 Certified Development Company in December 1982, the SIABDFC has utilized the SBA 503 Program to create nearly 400 jobs and leverage nearly $10 million in small business financing," Wilmshyer said.

"The standard formula for an SBA 503 project," he explained, "is 50 percent of the project financing comes from a bank or regulated private lender, and 10 percent comes from the business owner. The remaining 40 percent is financed by the SIABDFC through the sale of SBA guaranteed debentures to the Federal Financing Bank."

SIABDFC financing is available for a term of 15 to 25 years. The competitively priced interest rate is tied to Treasury Bonds and fixed for the term of the loan.

"The advantage of this type of financing to the small business," according to Wilmshyer, "is the long term of the loan, the fixed interest rate and the low down payment."

The advantages available to the private lender also are significant, he said. "First and most important, while the bank's exposure is limited to 50 percent of the project, it receives first position on 100 percent of the assets. Secondly, the lender is able to assist commercial customers in obtaining financing that otherwise would not be available."

All persons involved in commercial financing, development or business expansion are being urged to attend. For reservations or further information, regarding the SIABDFC and the SBA 503 Program, interested persons may call 344-4080.

"We used to have a fine town under the late Steve Maers. We need to get back to helping each other and getting along. Under Bellcoff, we can. It won't be a one man show."

"There won't be any trouble getting Bellcoff elected. There are just too many people going to back him and are volunteering to help him," Costoff said.

A full state it is too early to announce a public officer or employee convicted of violating any provision of this section forfeits his office or employment. In addition, he commits a Class 4 felony.

The jury charged in the indictment that Weber, in a grand jury investigation into property assessment practices, used an assistant state's attorney presiding over the jury to issue indictments to coincide with the grand jury's decision and that he later told the attorney to issue indictments on March 28, the day on which the special grand jury investigation was completed.

When another official was indicted for official misconduct, Weber demanded his immediate resignation. Why didn't Weber resign when he was indicted?

"Just recently, a state police officer was indicted for official misconduct and was suspended from his duties until a jury can determine guilt or innocence. Why wasn't Weber suspended?"

"Shouldn't the same standard apply to Mr. Weber? Should he not disqualify himself from conducting state's attorney business until this matter is closed up?"

Weber has said the allegations against him are untrue and, even if true, would not be illegal. The case against him is a matter of public and political motivation, the prosecutor believes.

Fire guts house; family homeless

A fire of undetermined origin gutted the Chester Marshall home at 4398 Highway 162 Monday afternoon.

Long Lake Fire Department Assistant Chief Mike Karlechik says the structure of the home was saved, but the inside was gutted and sustained extensive heat and smoke damage. Mrs. Marshall told the Press-Record the only belonging spared from the fire was a mattress.

"She said she first noticed the fire about 5 p.m. Monday in her kitchen pantry floor. She tried to get water from the faucet, but the water pump failed to operate, leading firemen to cut the wires to the pump had burned."

Karlechik reported that firefighters were at the residence for two hours and water to douse flames was provided by tanks, since there are no fire hydrants in the vicinity.

He noted that the cause of the fire is still under investigation, but Mrs. Marshall said that fire officials indicated at the time of the fire that it could have been caused by some type of electrical malfunction.

The Marshalls are now living with a son, Robert.

Seminar on home financing planned

A special two-hour presentation designed to acquaint first-time homebuyers and single purchasers of homes with the various methods of purchasing and financing a home will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 25, at Realty World Star, Inc., 3701 Namekiki Road (next to Granite City Bowl).

Participation at the meeting will include the 10.75 percent low-interest fixed-rate, 30-year loan program backed by the Illinois Housing Development Agency's $82 million home loan program.

Among the topics to be discussed are finding the right home at an affordable price, down payments and closing costs, determining monthly payments, employment and credit requirements for a home loan and various alternatives in financing a home.

The homebuyers meeting is free and open to the public. Reservations may be made by calling 876-0024.

Willing Workers hear of GCC's opportunities

The Willing Workers of America will hold their monthly meeting, Saturday, Sept. 22, at 10 a.m. at the YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave.

The featured speaker will be Rosanna Herren, assistant provost of Granite City Center. She will share information concerning school eligibility, financial aid, veterans' aid and programs offered. Following her presentation, there will be a general discussion period.

The Willing Workers is a non-profit organization that has no membership dues. Everyone is welcome to attend. Refreshments will be provided. For further information, interested persons may contact Brenda Derby at 876-2305.

Allen cites appeal of dismissed misconduct case against Weber

A campaign statement Wednesday by Dick Allen, a Granite City, who is the Democratic state's attorney nominee, cited the Republican incumbent's legal problem.

"The voters of Madison County should know that if my opponent, Don Weber, is re-elected to the office of state's attorney, he may not be able to complete his term."

Weber was indicted by a grand jury in Madison County on two counts of official misconduct. If convicted of such charges, he would forfeit his office. (The charges were dismissed, and the dismissal is being appealed.)

Allen said, "The Criminal Code provides a public officer or employee convicted of violating any provision of this section forfeits his office or employment. In addition, he commits a Class 4 felony."

The jury charged in the indictment that Weber, in a grand jury investigation into property assessment practices, used an assistant state's attorney presiding over the jury to issue indictments to coincide with the grand jury's decision and that he later told the attorney to issue indictments on March 28, the day on which the special grand jury investigation was completed.

When another official was indicted for official misconduct, Weber demanded his immediate resignation. Why didn't Weber resign when he was indicted?

"Just recently, a state police officer was indicted for official misconduct and was suspended from his duties until a jury can determine guilt or innocence. Why wasn't Weber suspended?"

"Shouldn't the same standard apply to Mr. Weber? Should he not disqualify himself from conducting state's attorney business until this matter is closed up?"

Weber has said the allegations against him are untrue and, even if true, would not be illegal. The case against him is a matter of public and political motivation, the prosecutor believes.

Commodities to be distributed

Officials in Chouteau, Namekiki and Venice townships and the Salvation Army announced that they will give out surplus government commodities this week.

Commodities will include: processed cheese, cheddar cheese, butter, dry milk, honey, cornmeal and flour. The honey, cornmeal, dry milk and flour are in short supply and persons will be asked to take their choice of one. All products will be given out on a first-come, first-served basis.

To be eligible to receive commodities, persons must be residents of the township where they are getting the commodities. They must be the head of a household or the spouse, have their Social Security number and sign an affidavit that their total household income is within the commodity guidelines as follows:

one person, $519; two persons, $700; three persons, $881; four persons, $1063; five persons, $1,244; six persons, $1,425; seven persons, $1,606; eight persons, $1,788 and $1,971 may be added for each additional member of the household.

Chouteau Township will begin distribution at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 26, at the Chouteau Township Social Center, 600 N. Thorngate Drive, Chouteau. Officials stress that the doors will not be opened until 9:30 a.m., so that they can get the program set up properly.

Venice Township will give out commodities at 9 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 27, at Englehart Hall, 1001 St. Louis and Washington Avenue, Madison. Township officials advise that honey should not be fed to children under 2 years of age.

Officials also note that there will be no discrimination on the basis of race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

The Salvation Army, 3007 E. 23rd St., will begin distribution of commodities to Granite City Township residents at 9 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 27. A representative for the Salvation Army said commodities will not be distributed if there is inclement weather. She also advised that the cheese will be distributed on Thursday only unless there are some leftovers.

Namekiki Township will give away commodities starting at 7:30 a.m. Thursday. Commodities will be given out at the township hall, 4250 Highway 162.

Seize guns, ammunition

Alert police halted a local man's van at 21st Street and Washington Avenue at 5:25 p.m. Wednesday and seized a 30 caliber rifle containing seven live rounds, a pistol, containers of 30 caliber and .38 caliber ammunition, two hunting knives and two other knives. Charges with unlawful use of weapons, he was taken to an Alton mental hospital.

News notes

The Madison County and Vicinity Carpenters District Council voted Monday night to continue to work during bargaining with Southern Illinois Builders. The contract expired July 31 and has been extended to Aug. 31. Sept. 28 and now Sept. 28. Hourly raises totaling $1.39 over three years were rejected Sept. 14.

A state law passed Monday over turns a court ruling that counties would have to repay to local-level taxing bodies the interest on taxes collected by "countywide" levies by counties in distributing the funds in the past decade had been cited. They now must pay interest on any taxes that they delay after Nov. 18, 1985.

State tax delinquents will have 60-day amnesty as of Oct. 1 to pay up without penalty on taxes they owe. They are to pay only half of the accumulated interest. A series of penalties will be much harsher starting Dec. 1.
